HOSTS ASSEMBLING.

St. Louis Filling Up With McKinley Rooters.

Fairbanks, the Hoosier, Leads in the Race for Permanent Chairman of the Convention.

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—None of the large delegations have arrived in the city yet. The delegates now in the city are simply those who have come ahead of the state delegations to arrange matters for the delegations from states where there may be contests.

By Saturday or Sunday night the big delegations will arrive. New York is expected Sunday night as also Ohio and Pennsylvania. Illinois will be here Monday. They are expected on special trains with brass bands and banners and propose to wake the dead when they get here. The Blaine club of Cincinnati with six hundred rooters for McKinley will come on a decorated train Sunday night.

A second special train will bring 500 members of the Lincoln club, of the same place. Senator Foraker and the Cincinnati end of the delegation will come on this train. The Lincoln club, of Toledo, will also arrive Sunday night with 300 shouters for McKinley. Most of the Ohio delegates will come on this train. Among them will be James A. Garfield and Webb Hayes, sons of former presidents.

The Tippecanoe club, of Cleveland, with 700 howlers, will arrive either Sunday night or Monday morning. The Buckeye club, of Columbus, with Governor Bushnell and staff and many delegates, will arrive Sunday night. The Topeka Flambeau club, with their red paint and lights, will be here Monday. The McKinley clubs, of Evansville, Ind., Detroit, Mich., Minneapolis, Chicago and Leavenworth, Kas., will arrive Sunday night. The Marquette club, of Chicago, will get in Monday morning, and the American club, of Pittsburg, will arrive either Sunday night or Monday morning, so that the town will be full of howling marchers by Monday noon.

Great preparations are being made to receive the delegations and clubs as they arrive and a lively time may be expected Monday. Henry Cabot Lodge, who is talked of for chairman of the committee on platform and resolutions, has telegraphed to Murray Crane, the national committeeman from Massachusetts, to rally the friends of the gold standard. Mr. Lodge said that evasion would be tolerated and that a straddle would be disgraceful. He said that the Indiana platform, which has been popular in certain circles for the past few days, would not be acceptable. The Indiana platform, he said, declares for the best money known to the world and pronounces emphatically against the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. It has been suggested to amend this declaration by striking out the words, "at a ratio of 16 to 1," so that the paragraph would read, "unalterable opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver." It was argued that if the words "at a ratio of 16 to 1" were kept in the platform it might be construed to mean that the republicans were in favor of the free coinage of silver at some other ratio.

There has been so much talk about the Indiana platform that the suspicion gained ground that the McKinley people were in favor of it. Nothing definite or authoritative, however, can be had from those supposed to represent McKinley. The supporters of the Ohio man from the east declare that McKinley is in favor of the gold standard. The supporters of McKinley from the west insist that he is in favor of the largest use of silver consistent with the maintenance of the parity of the two metals. Mr. Hanna, who could settle the uncertainty in a few moments, declines to speak. There is no doubt that the dispute will be taken into the convention. It cannot be settled in the committee.

John R. Tanner, candidate for governor of Illinois on the republican ticket, has thrown down the gauntlet to the free silver republicans. In an interview with a reporter he declared emphatically for the gold standard and said that the platform to be adopted by this convention should not hold out the slightest hope for the silver republicans.

Senator John H. Gear, of Iowa, does not believe the republican platform will declare for gold. When seen today he said: "Allison will be placed in nomination before the convention and, to say the least, will put up a good fight Every solitary man in Iowa is for Allison." When asked what he thought would be the result if the republicans should declare for gold, he said: "I don't suppose anything about it. I should not like to see my opinion on that point appear in print. Of course no man can tell just exactly what will happen, but I am confident that McKinley will not be nominated on the first ballot, and it is no foregone conclusion that he will be nominated at all. As to the nomination of vice president I have formed no definite opinion. However, I think some one from the east will be selected."

Senator Proctor, of Vermont, has no desire for the permanent chairmanship. He would prefer that some younger man should be honored with that distinguished position. Mr. Fairbanks, of Indiana, is still a popular favorite for the permanent chair, and it is not unlikely that the McKinley people will ultimately yield their objections to Fessenden for temporary chairman and that he will be selected by the national committee.

There is a general concensus of opinion that the financial plank of the platform will be very nearly identical with the plank of the Indiana convention, although there is a demand for some modifications. The Indiana platform declares: "We are firm and emphatic in our demand for honest money. We believe that our money should not be inferior to the money of the most enlightened nations of the earth. We are unalterably opposed to every scheme that threatens to debase or depreciate our currency. We favor the use of silver as currency, but to the extent only and under such regulations that its parity with gold can be maintained; and in consequence are opposed to the free unlimited and independent coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1."

There is a demand from some sections that the platform should declare for an international agreement and pledge the party to take steps to bring about such an agreement. This is the plea of some of the eastern states where it is claimed that the party might be able to run against a free coinage declaration by the democrats. There is another body that does not want more said than to declare against free coinage without an international agreement is not likely to be acceeded to as there seems to be a preponderance of setiment in favor of taking a step which will prevent further agitation.

The ultra silver men say they prefer a declaration for a single gold standard to anything else, and say that the issue cannot be made plain in any other way.

Robert G. Evans, member of the national committee and head of the Minnesota delegation, says that his state is against any free coinage. "I do not object," he said, "to a declaration against free coinage without an international agreement, but I do not want the party pledged to urge such an agreement and compelled to take steps to further a conference looking to such an adjustment. It will continue the agitation, an agitation which will be useless and which will be injurious to the country. I am in favor of the present standard and think we ought to maintain it and allow the country to enter on a period of prosperity which will follow a settlement of this question."

There seems to be a determination to make Senator Thurston, of Nebraska, the permanent chairman of the convention. Mr. Thurston had expected to make the first speech, seconding the nomination of Major McKinley. It is possible that even should he be permanent chairman, he will also make the seconding speech for McKinley.

All the talk about chairman of the national committee for the campaign results in one conclusion—that Hon. Marcus A. Hanna will be selected if he will consent to take the place. When asked about it today, Mr. Hanna said that one thing at a time was enough for him and he was not going into the campaign before the convention was over. He added that after going through a preliminary canvass he was not anxious to take a campaign on his hands. It has been about definitely settled that C. W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, will be the temporary chairman of the convention. Possibly some other man might be selected later, but the fact that Fairbanks has been the choice of McKinley very nearly settles it, as it does about everything else in this convention. No determination has been yet reached as to the permanent chairman, although Senator Proctor is still being talked of for the place. Mr. Proctor says he has no desire for the place, but will accept it if he is requested to. The impression seems to be that the permanent chairman will be selected from the east.

Chicago is engaged in an attempt to get the headquarters of the national committee removed from New York to Chicago. For this week, the state central committee of Illinois appointed a committee to lay the matter before the new committee. It is as follows: C. P. Hatch, chairman; Dr. L. S. Wilcox, of Champaign; L. T. Linnell, of Cobden; C. S. Rennells, of Jacksonville, and Sheriff James Pease, of Chicago. This committee is here now, and with them several other gentlemen, among them Dr. T. N. Jamieson and C. M. Pepper. "All that we can do now," said Mr. Pepper, "is to find out who the new committeemen will be and work on them."

Dr. Jamieson explained: "The fighting ground of the campaign will be in the south and west, and Chicago is the geographical center of the battlefield. It would be a benefit to have the headquarters in the west and a detriment to have it in the east. To have the headquarters of a gold campaign under the shadow of Wall street would be a menace to the interests of the party. Chicago is accessible from all parts of the country and will afford accommodations of the most elaborate kind for the committee. Chicago is a railroad and telegraph center. The city will accommodate the headquarters in every way and will contribute largely to the fund."

Henry Clay Evans, of Tennessee, arrived in town today and his appearance at once started afresh the talk of his candidacy for the vice presidency. Mr. Evans said his newspaper friends had kindly kept him before the country in connection with the second place on the ticket. He would, of course, be pleased to have the nomination, but he was not losing any sleep over the prospects of success or defeat. The Tennessee delegation will present his name to the convention, and he has assurances of support in other directions.

Senator Hawley, of Connecticut, is being discussed in connection with the second place, but there are very few United States senators who would care to be vice president, and it is not known here if the proposed candidacy of General Hawley is with his consent.

Buttons and badges with McKinley and Hobart, of New Jersey, and McKinley and McAlpine, of New York, are quite plenty, showing what the talk has produced. The sentiment in favor of Hobart seems to be pretty strong and there are reasons to believe that he is more likely to be the nominee for second place than any of the men so far mentioned.

FOUGHT POLICEMEN.

Harvard Students Win a Victory on Cambridge's Streets.

Police Arrested Three of Their Number, but a Mob Formed and Secured Their Release.

BOSTON, Mass., June 11.—Three thousand Harvard men, encouraged by the phenomenal event of a Harvard victory, fought 100 policemen in the streets of historic Cambridge last night. It was the biggest riot that the university has ever seen.

The moment it was known that Harvard had won there was a roar that shook every window for a mile around Then all was pandemonium. In half an hour there was on foot the biggest celebration ever known at Harvard. The whole city was a blaze of red fire, while all kinds of fireworks spurted in every direction, and the evening was made hideous with the blasts of a thousand giant horns.

A mammoth procession was formed and marched to Harvard square. The police, anticipating trouble, were out in extra force. The majority of the Harvard men were armed with revolvers and took up a running volley, firing into the air.

While cheering for the individual members of the team was going on, Clay Stone Briggs, a Harvard student from Galveston, Texas, was arrested. He had discharged his revolver in the very face of a policeman. As the policemen were hurrying him off, the mob took in the situation and there was a mad rush of 3,000 enraged students to the rescue. A line of Harvard men jumped on the backs of the policemen who still clung to their prisoner. Arthur T. Pilting, a student from Washington, was the first to tackle an officer. He was promptly knocked down. Goldwait H. Dorr, of Orange, N. J., a student, jumped on another policeman. He was seized and arrested. Many policemen and students received wounds. Finally the police were victorious, and the three students named were dragged into the station house and the heavy doors were slammed in the faces of the howling mob.

For an hour 3,000 mad students surrounded the station clamoring for the release of their comrades. The chief of police and prominent citizens addressed the students and urged them to disperse. The students paid little attention to the officers and refused to disperse until the three men who had been arrested were released on bail. They then departed, cheering as they left the police station, the three heroes mounted on the shoulders of the mob

F. V. Hall Made Temporary Convention Chairman Because of His Financial Views.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 11.—When the democratic state convention for the election of delegates to the Chicago convention met in Market hall in this city today the hall was crowded, everybody anticipating a lively session. The chief fight was on the question of silver, but the fight on National Committeeman Michael Doran was well to the front. The state committee had decided not to name a candidate for chairman and the gold and silver people each selected a candidate so that a test vote was immediately possible. Ex Speaker E. T. Champlin was the standard bearer of the 16 to 1 silverites, while ex-Congressman O. M. Ball was selected as the candidate of the gold delegates. State Chairman McDermott made a brief but ringing speech in calling the convention to order, eulogizing the democratic party and denouncing extravagance in the administration of public affairs, but avoided all personal mention. P. B. Winston, of Hennepin county, nominated E. B. Champlin, the silver candidate for chairmen, and E. W. Durant, of Stillwater, nominated F. V. Hall, the gold candidate. Mr. Doran seconded the nomination of Ball and explained that the vote on temporary chairman was a test of the gold and silver strength here. E. C. Gridley, of Duluth, seconded the nomination of Champlin, emphasizing the same point. After a number of warm speeches covering a wide range the vote was taken. The ballot resulted in Hall receiving 454 out of 744 and before the result of the vote could be given, the convention went wild, Michael Doran finally being heard above the uproar as he shouted: "The old man's here yet."

THE LAST DAY.

Fifty-fourth Congress Preparing to Adjourn.

Committees Sent to Notify the President and With Their Return Comes the End.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Chairman Cannon, of the appropriations committee of the house, and Mr. Sayers, of Texas, who is at the head of the minority of the committee, are preparing elaborate statements of the appropriations for this session of congress, which will be given to the press tomorrow. The actual appropriations for the session, exclusive of future liabilities contained in contracts authorized, reach a grand total of $515,759 820.

Scores of members of congress left the city last night after the appropriation bills were disposed of and there were not more than fifty members on the floor of the house when it met at 11 o'clock today for the final session of the first session of the Fifty-fourth congress. The reading of the journal of the legislative day of Saturday, which continued from 11 o'clock Saturday until 11 o'clock last night, consumed half an hour.

On motion of Mr. Dingley a resolution was adopted for the appointment of a committee of three members to join a similar committee from the senate to wait upon the president and inform him that congress was ready to adjourn and ascertain if he had any further communication to make. The speaker appointed Messrs. Dingley, Cannon and Sayers. Mr. Turner, on behalf of the minority, offered the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the thanks of this house are due and are hereby tendered to Hon. Thomas B. Reed, speaker of the house of representatives, for the ability, efficiency and strict impartiality with which he has discharged the ardorous and responsible duties of his office during the present session of congress."

The presentation of the resolution was greeted with a round of applause and was enthusiastically adopted by a standing vote.

While Mr. Jenkins was trying to secure action on the senate bill for the relief of the administrator of Henry Van Vleck which involved an expenditure of $4 500, Mr. Wheeler got the floor and made it a text for a statement as to the marvelous growth of the governmental expenditures during recent years. He declared that the cost of the United States government, federal, state and municipal, was the largest on earth, reaching $1,100,000,000 per annum.

Mr. Owens raised a laugh at Mr. Wheeler's expense by calling his attention to the fact that if the Van Vleck bill went through it would increase the grand total of our expenditures to $1,100,004 500 The bill was passed, but in order to prevent further clamor for recognition the house took a recess until 2 o'clock.

The house adjourned at 4 p m.

SENATE.

The senate began the closing day of the session without any of the confusion and activity usually incident to the departure of congress. There was a scattered attendance in the galleries during the early hours and the score of senators present gathered in groups and chatted. The last obstacle in the way of adjournment was removed when soon after the session opened, the enrolling clerks brought in the last of the great supply bills—that for the District of Columbia—and it was signed by the vice president and soon thereafter dispatched to the white house for the signature of the president. This done, business was suspended until Mr. Sherman secured the passage of a house bill pensioning the widow of Gen. William H. Gibson, of Ohio, at $50 per month. Then the galleries were cleared for a brief executive session, after which the open session was resumed.

The monotonous waits were broken at intervals by routine reports from the house. On motion of Mr. Platt the immigration bill, which had been displaced, was made the unfinished business. The effect is to give the bill the right of way when the December session begins. At 1 o'clock Mr. Sherman moved the appointment of two senators to accompany the committee of the house to wait on the president. The vice president named Senators Sherman and Smith.

The vice president also announced the appointment of Senators Harris, Faulkner and MacMillan as a committee to inquire into the charities of the District of Columbia with a view to ascertaining the extent of sectarian control The inquiry was provided for in the District of Columbia appropriation bill. At 1:30 the senate took a recess until 3 p. m.

ADJOURNED.

WASHINGTON, June 11 —Vice President Stevenson declared the senate adjourned at 4 p. m.

THE LAST DAY

Of the Editorial Association Meeting.

Entertainment and Banquet Last Night.

Synopsis of Addresses—Last Session Was Held at Swift Park This Forenoon.

At the opening session of the convention of the Northern Indiana Editorial association yesterday afternoon, President John B. Stoll, of the South Bend Times, delivered his annual address. He reviewed the history of the association and his address was full of interesting points which were well appreciated. B. F. Louthain, of the Logansport Pharos, read a paper on "The Best Method of Obtaining Advanced Payment of Subscriptions to Weekly Papers." He recommended not sending the paper to any one who does not pay in advance. Another plan which he has found successful is a yearly drawing of presents in a gift distribution, each cash in advance subscriber being given a ticket in the drawing.

The paper of Charles E Wilson, of the Lafayette Courier, on the "Modern Newspaper," was very interesting. He told what it required to make a successful paper, but showed plainly that there were no fixed rules that could be followed in bringing about this success.

The general subject of advertising was next taken up. W. B. Westlake, of the Marion Leader, talked on rates, and Charles Haas, of the Wabash Plaindealer, on position. Mr. Haas denounced the autocratic foreign advertiser who demands a certain position or nothing.

M. H. Ingram, of the Winamac Democrat-Journal, talked on how to secure foreign ads. He said the best way to handle foreign ads was not to have any of them in the paper. He does not like them.

J. E. Sutton, of the Logansport Reporter, gave an interesting talk on securing local ads. He says he keeps a man in his employ whose principal duty it is to solicit local reading notices, and he finds that it is a paying plan.

The address of W. D. Page, of the Fort Wayne News, on "Illegitimate Competition the Bane of the Newspaper Business," was one of the best of the meeting. He contended that the use of "patent insides" was an illegitimate competition, but that the principal trouble was with the fly-by-night papers that are established at so many places to live a year or six months. They keep patronage away from substantial papers while they last and then they die out.

A. P. Kent, of the Elkhart Review, talked on "The Editor and His Readers." He spoke in favor of the clean, moral toned newspaper, in which there should be no slang nor unmannerly phrases. He also favored the reading of newspapers in the schools.

H. C. Rockhill, of the Fort Wayne Journal, read a paper on "Machine Composition," which was listened to with marked attention. Machine composition is a subject in which all newspaper people are becoming more and more interested, and Mr. Rockhill's talk explained a good many points to them.

Early last evening the visitors were taken on a street car excursion about the city, and later an entertainment was given at the Masonic Temple theater by the Press club of Fort Wayne in their honor, followed by a banquet at the rooms of the Fort Wayne club.

During the afternoon, from 3 to 5 o'clock, the ladies of the Press club tendered the visiting ladies an informal reception at the Fort Wayne club. The rooms were decorated with ferns and vases of sweet peas. Pineapple ice and cakes were served by the Misses Charlotte Lowry, Helen Moffat, Sadie Rockhill, Katherine MacDougal, Edith Yarnelle, Agnes Seabrease and Alice Crane. Musical numbers were given by the Misses Stella Sweringen, Katherine Hattersley, Kate MacDougal and Josephene Albert. The ladies of the press of the city were the reception committee. Many ladies from the city were present and gave a cordial welcome to the visitors.

The ladies who are in attendance at the association are Mesdames J. A. Barnes, of Auburn; C. H. Rerick, Lagrange; F. W. Willis, Waterloo; E J. Marsh, Portland; J. E. Walker, Noblesville; A. C. Beeson, Winchester; F. J. Zimmerman, Warsaw; J. E. Sutton, Logansport; W. B. Westlake, Marion; T. A. Starr, Toledo; B. F. Louthain, Logansport; Charles Wilson, Lafayette; J. W. Baker, Columbia City; M. H. Ingrim, Winamac; E J. Gorrell, Winamac, and the Misses Edith and Charlotta Brown, Columbia City; May Parker, Kendallville; Hattie Conlogue, Kendallville; Mame McDonald, Ligonier; M. Blackburn, Decatur; E. Mae Atwater, Hamlet, and Mrs. Nora T. Gause, Aurora, Ill.

The entertainment at the Masonic Temple theater was well attended and the program rendered is spoken of by the visitors as being pleasing. Seats were reserved in the parquet for the guests and the public was admitted to what remained. No admission was charged.

The program was begun with an overture by Reineke's orchestra and followed with a song by the Haydn quartet. The quartette, which is composed of Messrs. E F. Yarnelle, A. J. Lang, Chas. H. Worden and Chas. L Olds, is one of the finest in northern Indiana, and was given an ovation by the audience and compelled to respond to an encore.

Mr. C. D. Tillo was down on the program for a thirty-minute welcome address. He came on to the stage, unfolded a big mass of manuscript, and after telling of the wonderful growth of our city and some of her manufacturing industries, was about to launch out in an oratorical flight in praise of the Newspaper Union and the daily press when two policemen of the city force, Officers Elliott and Goegline, appeared from behind the scenes, and, interrupting him, led him off the stage. This brought down the house and the audience went wild with applause.

The next number on the program was a solo, "Love's Sorrow," by Miss Leo Long. Miss Long is a favorite in Fort Wayne, and she also proved so with the visiting editors last night. She was enthusiastically received and, responding to the applause, rendered a second selection.

Mr. Will Friend then came on the stage and entertained the audience with a comic sketch, which was finely rendered and well received. He, too, was given an encore, but begged to be excused when he was called out for the third time. Mr. Friend is a member of one of the best theatrical companies of the country and is a natural born actor. He is a Fort Wayne boy and is now passing his summer vacation in this city.

The Haydn quartet favored the audience with another song and then, after a selection by the orchestra, the evening's entertainment at the Temple closed with a serio-comic farce entitled, "Is the Editor In?" gotten up by the newspaper reportorial gang for the occasion. It was illustrative of the trials and tribulations of the editor, and, aside from the parts taken by the members of the local press gang, was well rendered, notwithstanding the fact that it had only been given one alleged previous rehearsal. Mr. Charles Hartman, who took the principal character, that of "Editor Pastepot," was formerly a theatrical man and he rendered his character last night in a manner that showed his excellence as an actor. Mr. A. R. Hirons, as "Mrs. Boodlum," made a decided hit and played the aggrieved female subscriber to perfection. Tony Zero, as the office devil, also did well and amused the audience with his antics.

The entertainment closed with this farce and then the visiting editors, the ladies and the invited guests repaired to the Fort Wayne club, where a banquet was served by Manager C. D. Tillo, of the Fort Wayne Newspaper Union.

The banquet tables were spread in the large hall of the club and here the guests were served with a most sumptuous bill of fare. Very handsome engraved souvenir menu cards were presented each guest. Carnations were used as decorations and favors and vases of roses and pinks adorned each table. Supper over with, Mrs. J. A. Barnes, of Auburn, acting as toastmistress—and she won praise for her graceful, able manner of presiding—the following toasts were given and responded to:

"The Newspaper: How to Buy the Stock"—J. W. Baker, of the Columbia City Commercial.

"The Newspaper: How to Print It"—B. F. Louthain, of the Logansport Pharos.

"The Newspaper: How to get the News"—J. E. Sutton, of the Logansport Reporter.

"The Newspaper: How to Make it Readable"—E. O. Rose, of the Angola Magnet.

"The Newspaper: How to Circulate It"—A. P. Kent, of the Elkhart Review.

Editor T. A. Starr, of the Toledo Evening Bee, was present and Manager Tillo called on him for a speech. Mr. Starr responded in a happy way. Reineke's orchestra then played a closing selection and the guests, after a brief social time, left for their homes.

The session this morning opened at the city hall and after the discussion of one or two papers an adjournment was taken to Swift park. The Consolidated railway company invited the visitors to take an exaursion trip to this beautiful resort this morning and the invitation was accepted. It was the intention of the association to continue the business of the meeting at the park, including the election of officers for the ensuing year.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The following officers were elected at the meeting held at Swift's park:

President—J. B. Stoll, South Bend.

First Vice President—E. A. K Hackett, Fort Wayne.

Second Vice President—Mrs J. R Barnes, Avburn.

Recording Secretary—J. S Conlogue, of Kendallville.

Treasurer—Dr. A. S. Parker, of Kendallville.

Legislative Committee—Charles A. Haas, Wabash; Peter Walrath, Logansport; J. E. McDonald, Ligonier; F. W. Willis, Waterloo.

The street car company covered themselves over with glory and the newspaper men attending the convention never tire talking of the good time they had today visiting Swift park. The street car company not only gave them a ride through the city and to the feeble minded school, but while at the park gave them a banquet that would have been good enough for a lot of kings or magistrates. All thanks to the street car company. The newspaper men of Northern Indiana will remember them as long as they live and some of them give promise of living a long time. The park is a beautiful place to spend a few hours, and since the street car company has decided that no intoxicating liquors shall ever be sold there it will be a very popular place for our people.

STIRRED UP A RIOT.

Police Arrest a Gang at the Merry-Go-Round.

Had Been Insulting Women—Crowd so Large as to Stop the Street Cars.

A gang of toughs who were in the crowd at the merry go-round on Calhoun street, near Brackenridge street, last night stirred up a row that for a time developed into a riot.

Edward Smith and James Nolan insulted a woman who was standing near. She reported the offense to Officer Greer, who was there, and he placed the two fellows under arrest. Several of the pals of the prisoners attempted to take Smith and Nolan away from the officer, and he gave them a merry fight until Officers Murphy and Fassino came to his rescue. The three policemen used their clubs with telling effect, but the crowd was so great that it was almost impossible for them to get their prisoners away from their gang of friends. In fact the street was so packed that street cars were stopped, being unable to proceed. Finally, however, the patrol wagon arrived and the officers succeeded in getting their men into it. This morning all four were in police court. Smith and Nolan were charged with drunkenness and insulting women. They were fined $14 50 each. Smith paid and Nolan went to jail. The other two, Frank Miller and Frederick Pope, were fined $10 50 each for being drunk and disorderly.

The crowd that nightly gathers about the merry-go-round is mighty tough and the police should make a clean sweep of it. For women to be insulted while passing along there on the street is something new.

PETE MERZ JAILED.

The Local Tough Captured This Morning.

He Was in the Crowd at Police Court When Sergeant Daseler Caught Sight of Him.

Pete Merz, brother to Sleepy Merz, who is now in jail, walked into the arms of the police this morning in the very easiest way. Some months ago the two Merz boys assaulted Pittsburg Detective Dee Stoll with clubs in the Pittsburg railroad yards, near Hanna street, and came near killing him. Warrants were at once sworn out for their arrest but they got away and remained under cover until a couple of weeks ago when Deputy Sheriff Harrod captured Sleepy at the LaPearl circus grounds, on the jail flats, and locked him up after a hard fight. Sleepy is now awaiting trial on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill.

Pete, however, remained in hiding better than his tough brother. This morning he was seen for the first time. The police have had the warrant in their hands for his arrest ever since the assault was committed. During police court this morning Sergeant Daseler noticed Pete in the crowd. He was standing in the rear of room, where he supposed he would not be noticed, but Daseler's eye caught him and the officer immediately placed him under arrest. It was a clear case of walking into jail.

The warrant was sworn out before Justice Bullerman and Pete will have a preliminary hearing before him.

Merz was taken before Justice Bullerman and upon promise to leave the city and stay away for two years he was turned loose.

WEDDED TODAY.

Marriage of Miss Alice L. Hamil and Mr. E. B. Johns.

A Toledo Newspaper Man Wins the Heart and Hand of One of Fort Wayne's Teachers.

This morning, at 10:40 o'clock, at the Wayne street M. E. church occurred the marriage of Miss Alice L. Hamil, of this city, and Mr. Edward B. Johns, of Toledo. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Henry W. Bennett, the pastor of the church, in the presence of a number of the friends of the contracting parties.

The ceremony at the church was a very brief but a pretty one. As the bride and groom entered and walked up the aisle, preceded by the flower bearers, the Misses Jessie Orff and Marie Lorton, the wedding march was played on the organ by Miss Clara Bennett and then the two lovers, joining hands, were made man and wife, by the brief but beautiful ceremony pronounced by the bride's pastor.

The marriage form over, the newly wedded couple were driven to the home of the bride's aunt, Miss Belle O'Connor, 116 Clinton street, where an elegant wedding breakfast was served to a small company of relatives and friends. At 11:45 Mr. and Mrs. Johns left over the Wabash for Toledo, their future home.

The bride is a charming lady who for several years has been a teacher in our public schools and has a large circle of friends in this city, whose best wishes for her happiness and prosperity will follow her to her new home. The groom was some years ago connected with the Gazette, of this city, but is now railroad editor of the Evening Blade, of Toledo.

Connected with the marriage of these young people is a love romance that may be interesting When Mr. Johns resided in this city some years ago he and Miss Hamil were engaged to be married at that time, but for some reason, known only to lovers, they became estranged and the engagement was broken. He went to Toledo and the two did not meet again until last winter, when he was in this city on business. At that time chance brought them together, the old love flame was rekindled, and the marriage of this morning was the result.

GANG OF TRAMPS

Terrorizing People Near the East Yards.

The Police and Deputy Sheriffs Called Out to Subdue Them—A Woman Robbed.

About noon today the police were called to the east yards by a report that a tramp had gone through a house and stolen a pocketbook containing a dollar. The wagon made the run but could find no tramp and returned empty handed.

Later the sheriff's deputies were called out to investigate the same case, but at 2:30 this afternoon they had not yet returned. It was said that a gang of tramps were raising a big disturbance in the neighborhood of the east yards, frightening women and committing other depredations.

BRITAIN'S DEMAND

Put in the Form of a Polite Request.

Dole's Government Will "Please Pardon Col. Ashford" and Restore Him to Citizenship.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—The steamer Australis from Honolulu today brings confirmation of the Associated Press news concerning the demand made by Great Britain that Volney Ashford be permitted to return to Hawaii. The Dole government is very much excited over the report, but the president of the little republic is pursuing a conservative course in dealing with the matter. The news of England's demand originated in Washington, D. C., and was forwarded in private correspondence to an Hawaiian paper and several private concerns. The situation is said to be that Great Britain has made a rather sharp demand upon this government on behalf of Col. V. V. Ashford. The "request" is stated as the suggestion, in diplomatic sentences, that a pardon be issued to Ashford and that he be permitted to return to Hawaii without conditions of any sort It is stated by the Honoluiu Star that the republic declines to accept the British foreign officer's view of this case, refuses to grant the pardon or remove the ban, and adds that if Col. Ashford is landed under British auspices or other protection until there has been an extended and complete review of the case, the action will be at least protested.

There is a likelihood of Hawaii calling upon the United States to extend its offices in the dispute. Colonel Ashford was convicted by the military commission of misrepresentation and treason. The evidence was that he had advance knowledge of the outbreak. His sentence was imprisonment for a year and a fine of $1,000. He was then ill and is still a sick man. After a few weeks "on the reef," the man who had once been prominent and honored in Hawaii, was given suspension of fine and imprisonment on condition that he leave the country never to return. It was then generally understood that after a reasonable lapse of time he would be allowed to come back on making proper request. In letters to Hawaii on British subjects mixed up in the revolution and trial, the queen's foreign office gave the opinion that court martial was unconstitutional and that there could be no objection to any of the British cases except Ashford. It was claimed that the evidence against him was insufficient. It seems that Colonel Ashford has followed up this point. The understanding is that the Hawaiian minister of foreign affairs is preparing an answer to the "request."

At the Westminster seminary last night a reception for the graduating class was held. Fully 500 guests called during the evening, between the hours of 8 and 11, and they were received by the graduates, Misses Rurode, Taylor, Sale and Matthews, assisted by Mrs. D. B. Wells, Miss Carrie B. Sharp, Miss Julia McKee, of Remington, Ind., and Miss Mary Swope, of Seymour, Ind. Reineke's orchestra furnished music for the occasion. Light refreshments were served in the dining room, under charge of Miss Lewis. The dining room was prettily decorated with the class colors, green and gold, and in the yard there were brilliant illuminations by colored lights and lanterns. The affair was one of much pleasure.

MANY democrats throughout Indiana have received within the last few days, from George W. Allen, of St. Louis, secretary of the "Bland executive committee," a button announcing the presidential candidacy of Bland, accompanied by a little map showing the distribution of gold and silver states in the democratic party.

EX CONGRESSMAN THOMPSON, of the McKinley forces, says that a pure and simple gold standard will be adopted at St. Louis. This is encouraging, but the country would prefer to hear from McKinley direct.

OLD time Fourth of July celebrations are almost a thing of the past. The people have found out that big parades and big crowds give but little recreation to those who desire a holiday. The favored way now is to pass the day in a quiet manner in some shady nook away from the busy hum and excitement of every day life. It is in this way that invigorating rest is gained.

THE St. Louis convention, which meets next Tuesday, will, from present indications, be one of the most protracted conventions in our national history. There are 158 contests to be decided. Tom Platt predicts that the convention will not get down to voting before Monday, the 23d. It is suspected that Platt will keep the convention in session as long as he can, hoping meanwhile to put up a job to defeat McKinley's nomination. This he can do by making a fight in the committee on contested seats.

SENATOR CULLOM, of Illinois, who pulled out of the presidential race, concedes the nomination of McKinley, and says he reckons Morton will be nominated for vice president, unless Reed shall. Should Morton be nominated, his career will be a repetition, to some extent, of that of Governor Hendricks, of Indiana. Hendricks was twice a candidate for vice president, the two candidacies being separated by an interval of eight years—first in 1876, then in 1884. Morton was a candidate in 1888, and may possibly be again in 1896.

WHEN the colored delegates of the republican party reach St. Louis, unless the prospect decidedly brightens, they will not have a place where to lay their heads. What shall, then, be done with the negro delegates? Every hotel and boarding house came out flatfooted and declared that it would entertain no negro guest or customer. Money is no object. Threats of prosecution have had no effect and from the present outlook it would seem that unless tents are secured the black men will have to go hungry and unhoused. Quarters have been engaged at no less than three hotels for negroes, but when the delegation leaders arrived the arrangements were repudiated.

THE republican national platform relating to finance, adopted at Minneapolis in 1892, was as follows: "The American people from tradition and interest favor bimetallism and the republican party demands the use of gold and silver as standard money, with restrictions and under such provisions, to be determined by legislation, as will secure maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal. The interest of the producers of the country, its farmers and its workingmen, demand that every dollar, paper or coin, issued by the government shall be as good as any other." This was the language of Senator Henry M. Teller. He dictated the draft. He represented the republican silverites then as he does now. It was the republican bid of 1892 for the silver vote.

The Bay View Season.

People planning a vacation and others after superior educational advantages will be much interested in the Bay View assembly and summer university announcements, just out. A more delightful place than Bay View, Mich., where there are so many alluring pleasures and advantages, cannot be found in all the land. Recreations of all sorts by lake and rail are charmingly varied by almost hourly programs of the finest music, lectures and entertainments that money can buy. There will be courses of lectures by Geo. R. Wendling, Bishop Vincent, Abby Morton Diaz, Moses Coit Tyler and Chas. F. Aked, from England; courses on art, music, science, literature and history by famous lecturers. There will be daily concerts and entertainments by the Tyrolean Troubadors, from Austria; the Bendix Spring quartet, Chamenade Ladies' quartet, and assembly concerts, with Genevra Johnstone Bishop and Harrold Jarvis, soloists. Will Carlton will be there, and Polk Miller, famous in delineations of old time down south, is to give several entertainments.

No less popular is the Summer university, which last year enrolled 800 students from all parts of the union. The university embraces seven thoroughly organized and equipped schools, with a staff of over forty instructors from leading institutions, with Dr. J. M. Coulter, from Chicago university, at the head, and who does all his summer teaching there. There is the college, offering advantages in the sciences, literature, languages and mathematics; the school of methods for teachers, Bible school, schools in music, art, oratory and physical culture, where the finest instructors are employed.

The university opens July 8, the assembly a week later, both closing August 12. All railroads give special low priced summer tourist rates. The expenses at Bay View are extremely moderate, room and board ranging from $5 a week and up, and those who must further economize will be surprised over the wonders that can be done in boarding one's self by the aid of the well supplied bakery and provision store, and a forty cent oil stove.

The Bay View Magazine for June gives all information. J. M. Hall, Bay View, will send it on application.

Tobacco In Politics.

Tobacco bids fair to become as important in Cuban military strategy as quinine and cotton were privately known to be in our own war. Weyler's order forbidding the exportation of any tobacco from Cuba to any other part of the world than Spain seems to be an indirect way of revenging himself on us for interfering with his command to shoot the two Americans caught on the Competitor.

The order will affect American cigar manufacturers seriously. We have in this country plenty of tobacco to fill a cigar, and a good one. But the long, fine leaf that wraps it and holds it fast together in the cigar comes from Cuba, and it will be impossible to replace it. If that were the worst, we might recommend smokers to turn to pipes for their solace, or wrap their cigar filling material in cigarette paper, or any paper, or smoke paper out and out or stop smoking altogether, which would doubtless be good for their nerves.

But unfortunately that is not the worst. The young tobacco crop of Cuba, what the revolutionists have left of it, belongs mostly already to American manufacturers. They have advanced money on it as it stood in the fields. They have immense warehouses in Cuba in which the crop is gathered, waiting to be shipped to the United States. To lose both their money and the tobacco, for which they have paid, will bankrupt many of them. Large numbers of tobacco factories will be shut down here, hundreds, probably thousands, of men will be thrown out of employment. This was Weyler's little revenge on Americans.

There will, however, be one thing left for the workmen out of employment. They can enlist in the Cuban patriot army, steal over there and help whip the Spaniards out of the island, so as to bring prosperity back. Some of them will particularly enjoy doing this no doubt.

Electricity From Coal.

If a successful process for obtaining electrical power directly from coal without the intervention of furnace, boiler or dynamo has not been discovered, it seems only a matter of a short time when it will be. A man in New York claims to have solved the problem. Edison has been at work on the same thing 15 years.

Finally Dr. Jacques of Boston is certain he has found the way to get a current of any needed power from carbon and washing soda. Dr. Jacques' process is simple. He puts the lump of caustic soda into an iron pot. He heats the pot to a temperature of 300 degrees. The soda melts and forms what experts call an electrolyte. He thrusts a stick of carbon into the soda; next an iron tube ditto. Through the iron pipe he forces by means of a pump a stream of oxygen. The oxygen bubbles up through the soda, and some of it comes in contact with the stick of carbon as it bubbles. That produces the electricity. Connect the carbon stick and the iron pot by a wire, and there you are. Along the wire flows a stream of electricity ten times as powerful as that obtained from the same amount of carbon or coal by the ordinary process—at least so Dr. Jacques claims. The electricity is generated by the air and carbon. The soda merely enables them to unite.

Korea has nothing against the United States anyhow. She has granted to an American syndicate the privilege of building a railroad within her borders. The road will extend from the capital of Korea, Seoul, to her seaport, Chemulpo. The American is everywhere. It is agreeable to find in connection with the concession that Russia, now the virtual controller of Korea, not only interposed no objection to the grant, but actually approved it, and the Russian minister at Seoul gave useful suggestions to the enterprising Yankees who planned the road. This shows a most cordial feeling on the part of Russia to the United States. Citizens of few other nations would have been allowed to construct a railroad in Korea. That is because Russia knows the United States minds its own business, wants no additional territory and is not the least bit of a jingo, the scolding charges of President Eliot of Harvard to the contrary notwithstanding.

The British house of lords will now have to go sure enough. Labouchere has proclaimed war to the knife against them. There is only one obstacle to the accomplishment of Labouchere's magnificent scheme of forming an advanced radical section in the house of commons which shall work to extend progressive ideas through the country and make parliament a thoroughly democratic body. That is that nobody except himself can be persuaded to take Labouchere seriously.

The nineteenth century is nearly 100 years of age, yet the old fellow is every bit as lively as he was at the beginning of his career. In his ninety-seventh year he gives us at one and the same time the deadly cholera in Egypt, the magnificent and joyful coronation of the czar in Russia, a war of extermination in Cuba and a bitter fight on the free silver question in the United States.

A mirror could not lie if it wanted to. The glass has nothing to gain by flattery. If the roses of health and plumpness of beauty are leaving your face, your mirror will tell you so. You can see for yourself you are in danger of losing the admiration which is every woman's due. You may not really realize it, but health is the greatest beautifier in the world. Lotions, plasters, creams and cosmetics cannot make as good a complexion as health can. They cannot hide the story of ill-health. They merely emphasize it. Health shows in clearness of eyes and skin, in redness of lips and vivacity of manner and expression. Disease is proved positively by the absence of these things. When a woman sees the indications of ill-health in the face, she may with almost absolute certainty look for the cause in one or both of two conditions—constipation, and derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. These things in themselves are in some degree related, and nine-tenths of all the sickness of women come from them. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure permanently and positively any so-called "female complaint." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure constipation. There is no reason in the world why a woman should not be perfectly healthy. It rests with herself. If she will take these truly wonderful remedies, and follow a few hygienic measures, she may become perfectly strong and healthy in all ways. She will gain in health, strength and flesh. Hollows and angles will give place to fullness and grace. She will be that noblest and most beautiful of all creation—a perfect woman. All druggists sell Dr. Pierce's medicines, but if you care to know more about them and to know all of the grandest medical truths, send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, and a complete copy of Dr. Pierce's 1008 page book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. Several finely illustrated chapters are devoted to the consideration of diseases of women and their successful home-treatment. SHE COULD NOT LIVE.

WHILE HER LOVED HUSBAND REPOSED IN THE GRAVE.

THE BEAUTIFUL YOUNG WIDOW STETSON PINED AWAY AND DIED.

Laid to Rest Less Than a Fortnight After the Death of Her Husband—Romance of a Pretty Circus Equestrienne.

CIRCLE of honest friends which girdles America will be shocked to hear of the sudden death of Kate Stokes-Stetson, the beautiful creature who married John Stetson, the Boston manager of the Globe theater. Mrs. Stetson was ardently attached to her peculiar husband, and grieved with such sincere heartache that the nervous prostration following his demise a short time ago finally resulted in death the other morning in Boston. Kate Stokes was one of the most dashing and brilliantly handsome women in America. She began her career as a bareback circus rider of the most daring accomplishments and grace. Her father used to run the Stokes amphitheater on Clinton street in Chicago, and bewitching Kate was the joy of impressionable youth and bald searchers after novel sensation. She would run into the ring like a blaze of superb loveliness, toss her hair and leap to the horse's bare back with as sure a foot as Steve Brodie's. She smiled and grew rosy in the most bewildering fashion, and was always carefully watched by her mother, who never allowed anybody else to chaperon her charming little daughter. When Kate grew into womanhood she was taken away from the sawdust ring and placed in a boarding school, where her beauty and escapades variously brought her into romantic view of an interested coterie which had never reveled in her public exhibitions of daredevil pluck. Still her mother watched over her and her father surrounded her with such simple luxuries as his circus savings allowed. Just when the rumor that Stetson would marry Vernona Jarbeau was rife, Kate Stokes appeared in New York, chaperoned by her comely mother, and the two were frequently guests at John Stetson's Fifth Avenue theater. Without more than the usual financial warning in quiet breach-of-promises cases, Jarbeau fluttered into the field of Jake Bernstein, a wealthy Hebrew, and announcement of the probable marriage of pretty Miss Stokes to John Stetson came soon after the Jarbeau episode became known. Stetson was completely captivated by the handsome circus rider, and through his influence the fearless equestrienne secured an appearance in legitimate comedy, for which she not only had an ardent penchant but considerable talent. Instantly her beauty captured New York, she was the club toast for a season, but demurely lived in comparative seclusion with her mother, accepting the admiration and compliment of the clubs with much proper scorn. She was tall as Shakespeare's Rosalind and had astonishing muscular strength, coupled with the daintiest of curves and delicately feminine beauty of outline. Her skin was rich in color, clear as a lily petal and full of delicious little changes, from a blush to exquisite pallor. Her teeth were savage, small and kittenishly white and her mouth and nose Bouguereau and Botticelli painted and beautifully curved, rather thin, but soft and perfect. She married Stetson, and the manager squandered his money upon his lovely wife. There was between them that unemotional, placid sort of sulky devotion sometimes observed in compatibly mated pairs in peasantry or bourgeois couples. Stetson permitted Kate all sorts of liberties, and Kate took them neither greedily nor indifferently, but as due, with no particular return of thanks, and her affection for John was deep-rooted and big-hearted.

When John had occasion to travel Kate went with him, and when Kate had occasion to travel John thought it was all right. She left the stage immediately upon her marriage and never returned, though once in awhile she threatened it.

In winter she was a wonderfully active creature, always out wrapped from her lovely black head to her tiny feet in costly furs. She would walk leisurely and seemingly unconscious of the sensation her beauty created wherever she chose to wander, She had Russian vehicles, toboggan sleds, horses of her own selection, and she was the most daring and accomplished rider on the Back bay and carried terror to timid winter drivers in Central park and on the tally-ho roads in New York.

In summer she had one of the triggest steam and sail yachts among Boston craft and often went on long cruises alone with her crew and a few congenial spirits. Her sailor suits were wonderfully swagger affairs, usually imported and always original and immensely fetching. Sometimes in her hunting trips and long sails about in strange waters she would arm herself with a piquant brace of pistols set in jewels and stuck in a leather belt studded with gold and made more amusingly terrific by a jeweled dagger showing its hilt and sheath tip.

She had famously shapely feet and her footgear occupied shelves enough to fit up a good-sized shop. Her jewels were fabulous in price and once in awhile exceptional in value. She owned one or two of the world's most celebrated gems and had coronets, necklaces and a bundle of garter buckles not equaled by the treasures of any other Boston dame's private casket.

When Stetson's wealth and the beauty of his wife had grown into great notoriety John bethought himself of society and made a masse shot to seat himself and the buxom Katie in the heart of Back bay aristocracy. But a silent thunder cloud from the marble-heart district greeted this harmless ambition of the pretty circus rider and her husband.

Neither of them cared much, and the splendid Stetson castle, which sits obstreperously up in the polished ward of commonwealth avenue, has never been consecrated by Boston swelldom, but it was a great place just the same and entertainments of solid if somewhat ostentatious hospitality brightened its years and Mr. and Mrs. Stetson grew to be most happy in their pleasant bohemian circle of friends, who were always glad of an invitation to visit the big house.

A witty financier who had been unsuccessful in securing a loan from Stetson called at the palace on Commonwealth avenue and sent up his card. John had just been handed the transla-ion of Dumas' "Demi-Monde" and sent back the man's card, with the information written in the corner: "Can't see you. I'm just in the middle of 'The Crust of Society.'" The financier sent up another, upon which he wrote: "So glad you have succeeded in breaking in after all the rebuffs society has given you."

REYNOLDS' BIVALVE PARASITES

The Remarkable Affliction of a Professor Who Dwells in Texas.

Prof. Reynolds, of Georgetown, Texas, has the unpleasant distinction of being afflicted with a disease the like of which is not known in medical science. Many noted physicians have examined his case, and until recently no solution of its mystery has been found. The disease is caused by countless myriads of animalcule which burrow under the skin, causing great pain. When rubbed briskly with the hand his body would give off small particles very closely resembling brown sand. The case was first brought to the attention of Dr. Fleming, of Georgetown, who made a very thorough study of it and reported it in several medical journals. Last week Prof. Reynolds went to San Antonio to have City Physician Menger make a microscopical examination. Dr. Menger conducted a series of microscopical examinations, and not only succeeded in detecting the parasite, but has made several photographs of it. He says it is the most wonderful discovery ever made on the human body as far as his knowledge of the subject goes. The particles taken from the body look like common sand, are dark brown in color, and are barely visible to the naked eye. When placed in acid the particles foam like seidlitz powders, and they can be seen under the microscope giving off carbonic gas. Acids also make the particles transparent, and they easily crumble into very fine powder. The parasite is encased in a shell, or rather two shells. The parasite itself, when placed under a powerful microscope, looks very much like a grab spider. It has eight legs, four in front and four behind. The front legs protrude and look like horns.

Betting on "L" Trains.

There's some high betting going on at the 33d street station of the 6th avenue elevated road at about 2 o'clock every morning. The trains from up and down town pass each other at this station at that time, and you will notice a group of men standing on the platforms, looking at their watches and noting the approach of the engines, whose headlights shimmer along the rails. They are betting boxes of cigars drinks and dinners upon which train will reach the station first, and they all take the interest in it which passengers on the Atlantic liners take in an ocean race. Theoretically the trains are suposed to reach the station at the same time. In practice there is a difference of ten or fifteen seconds in the favor of one or the other every morning.—New York Herald.

Eczema All Her Life.

Mr. E. D. Jenkins, of Lithonia, Ga., says that his daughter, Ida, inherited a severe case of Eczema, which the usual mercury and potash remedies failed to relieve. Year by year she was treated with various medicines, external applications and internal remedies, without result. Her sufferings were intense, and her condition grew steadily worse. All the so-called blood remedies did not seem to reach the disease at all until S. S. S. was given, when an improvement was at once noticed. The medicine was continued with favorable results, and now she is cured sound and well, her skin is perfectly clear and pure and she has been saved from what threatened to blight her life forever.

S.S.S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) cures Eczema, Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, or any other blood trouble.

It is a real blood remedy and always cures even after all else fails.

REVOLT IN KOREA.

Twenty-Two Thousand Insurgents Take Up Arms.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 11.—The steamship Empress of Japan, which has just arrived from the orient, brings news that another rebellion is feared in Korea, owing to the protracted stay of the king at the Russian legation. The insurgents declared the king's absence is a disgrace to the country. Twenty-two thousand men have already risen in revolt.

Famine prevails in Tonquin owing to the prolonged drought and consequent failure of the rice crop.

Grain Crops.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Owing to copious rains early in May last the condition of the Spanish grain crops has materially improved. Still, according to United States Consul Fay, at Denia, owing to the diminished area of crops, Spain will import 600,000,000 pounds of wheat. He suggests that as no country is so favorably situated as the United States to supply this demand, this market may be secured by the establishment of direct steamship lines.

Jury Disagreed.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 11.—The jury has disagreed in the suit for $100,000 for libel brought by Dr. J. B. Hearne against M. H. DeYoung, proprietor of the San Francisco Chronicle. The jury stood six to six. The alleged libel connected Hearne's name with the murder of Amos J. Stillwell in Hannibal, Mo., eight years ago.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Cured of Gallstones.

May 27th, 1895.

The Dr. J. H. McLean Medicine Co.,

ST. LOUIS, MO.

GENTLEMEN: For upwards of ten years I suffered from what the doctors called neuralgia of the stomach, but they could do nothing for me. At one time I was taken with a most excruciating pain and in my agony I prayed for death to relieve me. My husband sent to Lincoln for another doctor, who came, and after examination, pronounced my trouble to be gallstones. The only relief I received was when the doctors injected morphine, and that was only temporary. I was reading in your almanac where

DR. J. H. McLEAN'S LIVER and KIDNEY BALM

Cured a case of gallstones. My husband thought I had better try it, so he bought a bottle. That bottle gave me so much relief I was encouraged to keep on with it. I used seven bottles, and am now, thanks to its great healing power, cured sound and well. I am unable to express my gratitude to you for the benefit I have received from your wonderful medicine. I have recommended it to many people since my recovery, and shall always do so when I have the opportunity. You may make use of this letter in any way you desire.

Yours respectfully,

Mrs. LIZZIE SAXTON,

REMARKABLE TESTIMONY

IN THE

COURTS OF LOUISIANA

OF EMINENT PHYSICIANS AS TO THE CURATIVE EFFECTS OF A WONDERFUL

Mississippi Mineral Spring.

(FROM THE HARTFORD, CONN., TIMES.)

In an action of law recently instituted by the Stafford Mineral Springs and Hotel Company, limited, of New Orleans, who also have a depot at 255 Broadway, New York, and whose Springs are near Vossburg, Miss., the the suit is against E. J. Hart & Co., wholesale druggists of New Orleans. Deposition regarding the character and medicinal value of the Stafford Mineral Spring Water was taken by order of the Civil District Court in the parish of Orleans, State of Louisiana, of a number of leading physicians of New York, Brooklyn, New Orleans, and elsewhere, which depositions were supplemented by the testimony of numerous physicians in open court at the trial of the case.

Among the physicians testifying as to the curative effects of the water in Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Cystitus, and other Kidney, Bladder, and Stomach troubles were:

Dr. Edward Bradley of New York, formerly demonstrator of anatomy, New York Medical College; Dr. Frank E. Miller of New York; Dr. Job Corbin, medical director, United States Navy, Brooklyn; Dr. J. B. Elliot, professor of the theory and practice of medicine, Tulane University, New Orleans; Professor Metz, State Chemist of Louisiana; Dr. Wm. E. Brickell of New Orleans, and a host of other physicians.

There is no record of any testimony so strong and positive in its nature having ever been given under oath by any physicians in the history of medicine.

It is impossible to ignor the fact that this testimony is that of honorable, dignified, and eminent members of the medical profession. To ignor it is to deny the truth, a dangerous thing to do.

This water is for sale by all druggists.

Florenz Boerger Dies of Stomach Trouble.

The Panhandle Wants a Differential—The Maccabee's Excursion to Eagle Lake.

Florenz J. Boerger, who had been ailing with stomach troubles for some time, died at his home, 183 East Washington street, at 6 o'clock last night. The funeral will take place next Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from Salem Reformed church. Mr. Boerger was born in this city forty years ago and resided here all his life. He was a boilermaker by trade and for the past ten years worked in the Pittsburg shops. Previous to that time he was in the city's fire department two or three years. His wife preceded him to the grave by a half dozen years, leaving one child, a little girl, who is now eleven years old.

WANT A DIFFERENTIAL

For the first time in its history the Pennsylvania lines have applied for a differential. There will be a strong fight against granting it on the part of competing lines. It has made an application to the joint traffic board for a differential of $2 on first-class and $1 on second-class passenger business from New York to Chicago in connection with its Panhandle route. The west bound differential, if granted, would apply over the Pennsylvani main line from New York to Pittsburg and thence over the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis line to Chicago. The fares at present by that route are $20 for first-class and $19 for second-class. General Passenger Agent Wood of the Pennsylvania claims that by the Panhandle route the Pennsylvania facilities are inferior, and that it is therefore entitled to a reduction. All the Pennsylvania's fast trains and best equipped trains are sent to Chicago over the Fort Wayne route. Over the Panhandle route it has only one New York-Chicago train with a through sleeper. Competing lines, it claims, have been recently adding superior facilities in the way of equipment for the New York Chicago service, and that its Panhandle route has been placed at a disadvantage.

MACCABEE EXCURSION.

The Maccabee excursion to Eagle Lake this morning numbered 133 people, 116 of whom were citizens of this city. The train left here with six coaches, expecting to pick up passengers at all intermediate points. A dozen or more persons who could not go on the early train, went down to the lake at 39 at noon. The Big Four road turned a lot of Maccabee excursionists over to the Pittsburg at Warsaw, and Conductors Cliff Ellenwood and Joe Keeler went down there to take up the coupons. Another excursion train to Eagle Lake ran over the west end of the Pittsburg line this morning, starting from Valparaiso and reaching its destination at the same time as the Lima and Fort Wayne excursionists. The crew of the latter was Conductor Kinzie Kimmell, Engineer Frank Whitney, Fireman Maloney and Brakemen Jesse Hamlet and Robert Brown.

Fireman Baldwin, of the Nickel Plate, has been granted a week's leave of absence and will go to the country, near Bellevue, to visit friends.

The caboose of Conductor H. W. Billings has gone into the Stony Island shops for light repairs and that gentleman will be off duty a few days.

George B. Klingenberger, a moulder, has resumed his duties at the Bass works after three months absence on account of an abscess on one of his limbs.

The general superintendent of the New York Central has given special orders that the transportation of corpses on the Empire State Express will not be permitted.

Pittsburg train No. 4 brought down from Chicago this morning ten colored caterers, whose services are required at the reception at Brookside this afternoon and evening.

Nickel Plate engine 103 broke down at Duntee yesterday and engine 98 was sent to relieve her. The disabled engine was hauling the second section of freight train No. 41.

The program for the exercises on the water and grounds at Rome City on the occasion of the shopmen's excursion has been completed and placed in the hands of the printer.

Sickness prevents George Moore, the well known Nickel Plate passenger engineer, from going out with his engine, and that duty is being performed by Engineer William Morris.

Tomorrow the Wabash will place its St. Louis convention tickets on sale and continue to issue them until Monday evening next. The rate has been fixed at $10 and tickets are good returning until June 21.

The board of managers of the Joint Traffic association have issued an order that hereafter packing for freight shall not be furnished by the railroad companies, but by the shippers. This applies especially to perishable goods.

The Panhandle has been sued for $2,000 by Richard M. Beck, at Marion, the amount being claimed as damages on account of the appropriation of land owned by him at the time the double track was put down in Marion. The case is now on trial.

C. M. Jones, chief clerk at the Pittsburg freight house, Mrs. Jones and their daughter, Miss Blanche, will leave this evening on No. 8 for Ogdensburg, N. Y., on their regular annual vacation. They expect to be absent from home about two weeks.

F. H. Short, secretary and treasurer of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, has held that position forty-four years, with the exception of the three years he was president of that company, he beginning service with the road in that capacity in 1852.

Hardy, the ten year old son of Louis Stetter, of the Pittsburg shops, is recovering from a surgical operation performed by Dr. J. Stutz. The lad was vaccinated two or three years ago and a tumor developed from the wound. This was removed by the surgeon.

Isaac Sidle, the oldest engineer in time of service on the Wabash, has just passed a creditable examination for color blindness, etc., and has taken his run again between Fort Wayne and Toledo. Mr. Sidle a short time ago completed his thirty-seventh year in the service of Wabash.

General Manager G. L. Bradbury has officially notified the local officers here of the appointment of Col. S. B. Sweet to the office of general freight agent, A. G. Young and H. J. Graham to the office of assistant general freight agents. THE SENTINEL exclusively mentioned these promotions several days ago.

On the Pennsylvania lines there are available for service 2,578 passenger cars, and of this number the Pennsylvania proper owns 1,760 coaches, the Panhandle has 370, the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago 320 coaches, and the Pennsylvania transportation department can on short notice mobilize one thousand coaches at any point on its system.

The Joint Traffic association has decided not to meddle with the question of the speed of trains. President Ingalls, of the Big Four took strong grounds against their meddling with that question, taking the position that lines with superior power, road bed, track service and equipment should not be handicapped by any association, the road being given the privilege to make any speed consistent with safety.

Thirty-nine years ago today John Slater, the well known blacksmith, disembarked from an English ship at Castle Garden, New York. A few weeks later Mr. Slater came to Allen county, where he has resided ever since. He learned the trade he now follows in a country shop in Eel River township and some years afterwards came to Fort Wayne and took a position in the Pittsburg shops, where he is still employed.

A motion was argued in the United States court at Toledo yesterday to close the testimony in the suit of the Transcontinental Trust company against the Toledo, St. Louis and Kansas City company. This is the case that has run the gauntlet of the courts for the last three years, and affects the validity of the first mortgage bonds. The suit is the one of Charles Hamlin and others against the road, in which ex-President Harrison and Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll argued the main question at Toledo a few months ago.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

Only Western States Were Able to Secure Them.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Excepting the case of Savannah, Ga., the western congressmen from the four new states—Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Utah—are the only delegations which have succeeded in securing public building bills from this session of congress. The house policy has been to report no bills for new building, so after exhausting their efforts in that body the western men turned their attention to the senate. They secured amendments to the sundry civil bills and those items were the hardest fought between the two houses and threatened to prolong the session for some days. Senator Dubois, who engineered the campaign in the senate was importuned to consent to drop the amendments but the western senators and representatives refused to capitulate on any conditions and finally the house accepted them, when Mr. Wilson, of Idaho, made the motion to that effect yesterday.

WOMAN'S INFLUENCE.

The influence of women upon the civilization of the world, could never be measured.

Because of her, thrones have been established and destroyed. The flash of her eye, the touch of her hand, and we have the marvellous power of women, glorious in the possession of perfect physical health.

Lydia E. Pinkham, by her wonderful discovery of the "Vegetable Compound," has done much to place this great power in the hands of women.

She has lifted thousands and thousands out of the misery brought by displacement of the womb, and all the evils that follow diseases of the uterus.

The "Vegetable Compound" restores natural cheerfulness, destroys despondency, cures backache, strengthens the muscles, restores the womb to its normal condition, and you are changed from a physical wreck to the joy of your home and friends.

By the way—the leading druggists tell us that the demand for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is simply beyond their power of understanding, and what is best of all, it does the work and cures where the best physicians utterly fail.

Wholesome, pure and full of fruit.

QUIT KICKING.

Base Ball Patrons are Sick and Tired of It.

They Want to See Ball Playing Instead of Booby Play—Fine Game Yesterday.

	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Per ct.
Fort Wayne	32	25	7	.781
Wheeling	30	18	12	.600
New Castle	32	18	14	.563
Jackson	33	17	16	.515
Toledo	33	16	17	.485
Washington	31	13	18	.419
Saginaw	32	11	21	.344
Youngstown	30	9	21	.300

Captain Tebeau, of the Fort Wayne base ball team might just as well learn first as last that the patrons of the base ball games do not take kindly to his manner of kicking. Whenever has a rightful kick coming to him the crowds who attend the games are with him and they at all times give him their support and encouragement whenever he has reason to raise a howl. Under such circumstances they all want him to make it good and stick to it, but they are sick and tired of his little petty, peevish kicking, which commences with the game and ends with the game. Such tactics are losing friends to the game and nobody can blame the people for being disgusted. In yesterday's game Tebeau kicked and he kicked then he kicked some more, and the result was that the crowd became tired of it.

And then if Tebeau and his men cannot win games by superior playing they deserve to lose them. When Tebeau deliberately threw away a ball yesterday because he did not want it in the game he did something that was entirely out of place. Of course, there is no rule governing such a trick and it was upon this point that Tebeau, after being called down, won his kick, and succeeded in having the game thrown to Fort Wayne after Youngstown had left the field. Yet, in spite of this fact, the trick was a mean one and entirely uncalled for, because the Colts could have won the game with legitimate playing. The people of Fort Wayne enjoy nice, clean base ball but they don't want a game full of kicks and baby plays and they will not put up with it.

With the exception of the above mentioned features, the game yesterday was a fine one. Swain was a puzzle to the Youngstowns until the eighth inning, when they knocked him out and Knell took his place. The Colts were also unable to hit Jordan, and at the end of the ninth inning the game stood 4 to 4 Then the squabble over Tebeau throwing the old ball away ensued and Youngstown left the field. Umpire Andrews did the only thing left for him to do, and forfeited the game to Fort Wayne by a score of 9 to 0.

The score by ionings was thus:

	R	H	E.
Fort Wayne...1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 2–4	5	3
Youngst'n....0 0 0 0 1 0 0 3 0–4	8	5

Earned runs—Fort Wayne, 2; Youngstown, 2 Two base hits—Tebeau, King, Jordan, Brodie. Passed ball—O'Meara. Wild pitch—Jordan. Bases on balls—Off Swain, 5. Hit by pitcher—By Jordan, 1. Struck out—By Jordan, 4; by Swain, 3 Left on bases—Fort Wayne, 11; Youngstown, 5. Double plays—Jordan to Winters. Sacrifice hits—Steen, Brodie. Stolen bases—Tebeau, Criger, Lynch, Grey.

JACKSON, 5; WHEELING, 9

JACKSON, Mich., June 11.—Garvey was somewhat wild, but effective, and this, with Jackson's poor base running and bunched errors in the second inning, gave wheeling a poorly played game. Score:

	R	H	E.
Wheeling..1 5 0 0 0 0 0 3 *–9	10	4
Jackson....0 2 0 0 0 2 1 0 0–5	5	6

Batteries—Garvey and Davis; Derrick and Myers.

TOLEDO, 14; WASHINGTON, 1.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 11.—If Toledo had not been a little gay in the ninth Washington would have been shut out, and Toledo would have had an errorless game to her credit. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Toledo..... 4 0 0 0 8 2 0 0 0–14	18	5
Washington 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1–1	7	5

Batteries—Kelb and Arthur; Riley and Mitchell.

NEW CASTLE, 12; SAGINAW, 11.

SAGINAW, Mich., June 11.—Black's Tigers lost a game to New Castle at Union park this afternoon. Daniels went to pieces in the fourth and gave the locals eight runs, but recovered and pitched a steady game to the close. The score:

New Castle..0 0 0 0 6 1 1 2 1–12	15	1
Saginaw).....0 0 0 8 0 2 0 1 0–11	14	2

Batteries—Allen, McGarry and Grey; Daniels and Lavalle.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Washington opens here today for three games. Knell and Criger are the battery today for the Colts

Saginaw is said to be on a better financial basis now than at any time during the season and the team is putting up better ball than ever.

JUDGE CALDWELL

Will Not Accept the Nomination for President.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Col., June 11.—Judge Henry C. Caldwell, of the United States circuit court, who is stopping here was asked whether he would accept a nomination for the presidency from the populist and the silver conventions at St. Louis. He replied emphatically that he would not. He stated that he wanted to vote for a silver man at the coming election but he was afraid he might have to choose between two. He thought that if the friends of silver could be brought together they could win the greatest victory for the people since the days of Lincoln.

A Sure Cure.

A man in Fort Wayne had a mother-in-law
Who was troubled much with a wagging jaw;
She scolded at morning and scolded at night
If things went wrong or things went right.
This man thought of everything high and low
To try and stop this ceaseless blow,
But everything failed until one day,
To Morgan & Co.'s he wended his way.
He examined their REFRIGERATOR line,
Then picked out one that was superfine.
He sent it out to his mother-in-law;
"Oh," she said, "'Tis the finest I ever saw;
As long as I live I'll not scold again
But will always love my son-in-law Ben."
Oh, sons in-law, if you want peace 'tis best
To buy their ice-box, it does the rest.

HOSTS ASSEMBLING.

St. Louis Filling Up With McKinley Rooters.

Fairbanks, the Hoosier, Leads in the Race for Permanent Chairman of the Convention.

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—None of the large delegations have arrived in the city yet. The delegates now in the city are simply those who have come ahead of the state delegations to arrange matters for the delegations from states where there may be contests.

By Saturday or Sunday night the big delegations will arrive. New York is expected Sunday night as also Ohio and Pennsylvania Illinois will be here Monday. They are expected on special trains with brass bands and banners and propose to wake the dead when they get here. The Blaine club of Cincinnati with six hundred rooters for McKinley will come on a decorated train Sunday night.

A second special train will bring 500 members of the Lincoln club, of the same place. Senator Foraker and the Cincinnati end of the delegation will come on this train. The Lincoln club, of Toledo, will also arrive Sunday night with 300 shouters for McKinley. Most of the Ohio delegates will come on this train. Among them will be James A. Garfield and Webb Hayes, sons of former presidents.

The Tippecanoe club, of Cleveland, with 700 howlers, will arrive either Sunday night or Monday morning. The Buckeye club, of Columbus, with Governor Bushnell and staff and many delegates, will arrive Sunday night. The Topeka Flambeau club, with their red paint and lights, will be here Monday. The McKinley clubs, of Evansville, Ind., Detroit, Mich., Minneapolis, Chicago and Leavenworth, Kas., will arrive Sunday night. The Marquette club, of Chicago, will get in Monday morning, and the American club, of Pittsburg, will arrive either Sunday night or Monday morning, so that the town will be full of howling marchers by Monday noon.

Great preparations are being made to receive the delegations and clubs as they arrive and a lively time may be expected Monday. Henry Cabot Lodge, who is talked of for chairman of the committee on platform and resolutions, has telegraphed to Murray Crane, the national committeeman from Massachusetts, to rally the friends of the gold standard. Mr. Lodge said that evasion would be tolerated and that a straddle would be disgraceful. He said that the Indiana platform, which has been popular in certain circles for the past few days, would not be acceptable. The Indiana platform, he said, declares for the best money known to the world and pronounces emphatically against the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. It has been suggested to amend this declaration by striking out the words, "at a ratio of 16 to 1," so that the paragraph would read, "unalterable opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver." It was argued that if the words "at a ratio of 16 to 1" were kept in the platform it might be construed to mean that the republicans were in favor of the free coinage of silver at some other ratio.

There has been so much talk about the Indiana platform that the suspicion gained ground that the McKinley people were in favor of it. Nothing definite or authoritative, however, can be had from those supposed to represent McKinley. The supporters of the Ohio man from the east declare that McKinley is in favor of the gold standard. The supporters of McKinley from the west insist that he is in favor of the largest use of silver consistent with the maintenance of the parity of the two metals. Mr. Hanna, who could settle the uncertainty in a few moments, declines to speak. There is no doubt that the dispute will be taken into the convention. It cannot be settled in the committee.

John R. Tanner, candidate for governor of Illinois on the republican ticket, has thrown down the gauntlet to the free silver republicans. In an interview with a reporter he declared emphatically for the gold standard and said that the platform to be adopted by this convention should not hold out the slightest hope for the silver republicans.

Senator John H. Gear, of Iowa, does not believe the republican platform will declare for gold. When seen today he said: "Allison will be placed in nomination before the convention and, to say the least, will put up a good fight Every solitary man in Iowa is for Allison." When asked what he thought would be the result if the republicans should declare for gold, he said: "I don't suppose anything about it. I should not like to see my opinion on that point appear in print. Of course no man can tell just exactly what will happen, but I am confident that McKinley will not be nominated on the first ballot, and it is no foregone conclusion that he will be nominated at all. As to the nomination of vice president I have formed no definite opinion. However, I think some one from the east will be selected."

Senator Proctor, of Vermont, has no desire for the permanent chairmanship. He would prefer that some younger man should be honored with that distinguished position. Mr. Fairbanks, of Indiana, is still a popular favorite for the permanent chair, and it is not unlikely that the McKinley people will ultimately yield their objections to Fessenden for temporary chairman and that he will be selected by the national committee.

There is a general concensus of opinion that the financial plank of the platform will be very nearly identical with the plank of the Indiana convention, although there is a demand for some modifications. The Indiana platform declares: "We are firm and emphatic in our demand for honest money. We believe that our money should not be inferior to the money of the most enlightened nations of the earth. We are unalterably opposed to every scheme that threatens to debase or depreciate our currency. We favor the use of silver as currency, but to the extent only and under such regulations that its parity with gold can be maintained; and in consequence are opposed to the free unlimited and independent coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1."

There is a demand from some sections that the platform should declare for an international agreement and pledge the party to take steps to bring about such an agreement. This is the plea of some of the eastern states where it is claimed that the party might be able to run against a free coinage declaration by the democrats. There is another body that does not want more said than to declare against free coinage without an international agreement is not likely to be acceeded to as there seems to be a preponderance of setiment in favor of taking a step which will prevent further agitation.

The ultra silver men say they prefer a declaration for a single gold standard to anything else, and say that the issue cannot be made plain in any other way.

Robert G. Evans, member of the national committee and head of the Minnesota delegation, says that his state is against any free coinage. "I do not object," he said, "to a declaration against free coinage without an international agreement, but I do not want the party pledged to urge such an agreement and compelled to take steps to further a conference looking to such an adjustment. It will continue the agitation, an agitation which will be useless and which will be injurious to the country. I am in favor of the present standard and think we ought to maintain it and allow the country to enter on a period of prosperity which will follow a settlement of this question."

There seems to be a determination to make Senator Thurston, of Nebraska, the permanent chairman of the convention. Mr. Thurston had expected to make the first speech, seconding the nomination of Major McKinley. It is possible that even should he be permanent chairman, he will also make the seconding speech for McKinley.

All the talk about chairman of the national committee for the campaign results in one conclusion—that Hon. Marcus A. Hanna will be selected if he will consent to take the place. When asked about it today, Mr. Hanna said that one thing at a time was enough for him and he was not going into the campaign before the convention was over. He added that after going through a preliminary canvass he was not anxious to take a campaign on his hands. It has been about definitely settled that C. W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, will be the temporary chairman of the convention. Possibly some other man might be selected later, but the fact that Fairbanks has been the choice of McKinley very nearly settles it, as it does about everything else in this convention. No determination has been yet reached as to the permanent chairman, although Senator Proctor is still being talked of for the place. Mr. Proctor says he has no desire for the place, but will accept it if he is requested to. The impression seems to be that the permanent chairman will be selected from the east.

Chicago is engaged in an attempt to get the headquarters of the national committee removed from New York to Chicago. For this week, the state central committee of Illinois appointed a committee to lay the matter before the new committee. It is as follows: C. P. Hatch, chairman; Dr. L. S. Wilcox, of Champaign; L. T. Linnell, of Cobden; C. S. Rennells, of Jacksonville, and Sheriff James Pease, of Chicago. This committee is here now, and with them several other gentlemen, among them Dr. T. N. Jamieson and C. M. Pepper. "All that we can do now," said Mr. Pepper, "is to find out who the new committeemen will be and work on them."

Dr. Jamieson explained: "The fighting ground of the campaign will be in the south and west, and Chicago is the geographical center of the battlefield. It would be a benefit to have the headquarters in the west and a detriment to have it in the east. To have the headquarters of a gold campaign under the shadow of Wall street would be a menace to the interests of the party. Chicago is accessible from all parts of the country and will afford accommodations of the most elaborate kind for the committee. Chicago is a railroad and telegraph center. The city will accommodate the headquarters in every way and will contribute largely to the fund."

Henry Clay Evans, of Tennessee, arrived in town today and his appearance at once started afresh the talk of his candidacy for the vice presidency. Mr. Evans said his newspaper friends had kindly kept him before the country in connection with the second place on the ticket. He would, of course, be pleased to have the nomination, but he was not losing any sleep over the prospects of success or defeat The Tennessee delegation will present his name to the convention, and he has assurances of support in other directions

Senator Hawley, of Connecticut, is being discussed in connection with the second place, but there are very few United States senators who would care to be vice president, and it is not known here if the proposed candidacy of General Hawley is with his consent.

Buttons and badges with McKinley and Hobart, of New Jersey, and McKinley and McAlpine, of New York, are quite plenty, showing what the talk has produced. The sentiment in favor of Hobart seems to be pretty strong and there are reasons to believe that he is more likely to be the nominee for second place than any of the men so far mentioned.

FOUGHT POLICEMEN.

Harvard Students Win a Victory on Cambridge's Streets.

Police Arrested Three of Their Number, but a Mob Formed and Secured Their Release.

BOSTON, Mass., June 11.—Three thousand Harvard men, encouraged by the phenomenal event of a Harvard victory, fought 100 policemen in the streets of historic Cambridge last night. It was the biggest riot that the university has ever seen.

The moment it was known that Harvard had won there was a roar that shook every window for a mile around Then all was pandemonium. In half an hour there was on foot the biggest celebration ever known at Harvard. The whole city was a blaze of red fire, while all kinds of fireworks spurted in every direction, and the evening was made hideous with the blasts of a thousand giant horns.

A mammoth procession was formed and marched to Harvard square. The police, anticipating trouble, were out in extra force. The majority of the Harvard men were armed with revolvers and took up a running volley, firing into the air.

While cheering for the individual members of the team was going on, Clay Stone Briggs, a Harvard student from Galveston, Texas, was arrested. He had discharged his revolver in the very face of a policeman. As the policemen were hurrying him off, the mob took in the situation and there was a mad rush of 3,000 enraged students to the rescue. A line of Harvard men jumped on the backs of the policemen who still clung to their prisoner. Arthur T. Pilting, a student from Washington, was the first to tackle an officer. He was promptly knocked down. Goldwait H. Dorr, of Orange, N. J., a student, jumped on another policeman. He was seized and arrested. Many policemen and students received wounds. Finally the police were victorious, and the three students named were dragged into the station house and the heavy doors were slammed in the faces of the howling mob.

For an hour 3,000 mad students surrounded the station clamoring for the release of their comrades. The chief of police and prominent citizens addressed the students and urged them to disperse. The students paid little attention to the officers and refused to disperse until the three men who had been arrested were released on bail. They then departed, cheering as they left the police station, the three heroes mounted on the shoulders of the mob.

GOLD ON TOP.

Minnesota in Favor of the Yellow Metal.

F. V. Hall Made Temporary Convention Chairman Because of His Financial Views.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 11.—When the democratic state convention for the election of delegates to the Chicago convention met in Market hall in this city today the hall was crowded, everybody anticipating a lively session. The chief fight was on the question of silver, but the fight on National Committeeman Michael Doran was well to the front. The state committee had decided not to name a candidate for chairman and the gold and silver people each selected a candidate so that a test vote was immediately possible. Ex Speaker E. T. Champlin was the standard bearer of the 16 to 1 silverites, while ex Congressman O. M. Ball was selected as the candidate of the gold delegates. State Chairman McDermott made a brief but ringing speech in calling the convention to order, eulogizing the democratic party and denouncing extravagance in the administration of public affairs, but avoided all personal mention. P. B. Winston, of Hennepin county, nominated E. B. Champlin, the silver candidate for chairman, and E. W. Durant, of Stillwater, nominated F. V. Hall, the gold candidate. Mr. Doran seconded the nomination of Hall and explained that the vote on temporary chairman was a test of the gold and silver strength here. E. C. Gridley, of Duluth, seconded the nomination of Champlin, emphasizing the same point. After a number of warm speeches covering a wide range the vote was taken. The ballot resulted in Hall receiving 454 out of 744 and before the result of the vote could be given, the convention went wild, Michael Doran finally being heard above the uproar as he shouted: "The old man's here yet."

DALLAS F. GREEN.

THE LAST DAY.

Fifty-fourth Congress Preparing to Adjourn.

Committees Sent to Notify the President and With Their Return Comes the End.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Chairman Cannon, of the appropriations committee of the house, and Mr. Sayers, of Texas, who is at the head of the minority of the committee, are preparing elaborate statements of the appropriations for this session of congress, which will be given to the press tomorrow. The actual appropriations for the session, exclusive of future liabilities contained in contracts authorized, reach a grand total of $515,759 820.

Scores of members of congress left the city last night after the appropriation bills were disposed of and there were not more than fifty members on the floor of the house when it met at 11 o'clock today for the final session of the first session of the Fifty-fourth congress. The reading of the journal of the legislative day of Saturday, which continued from 11 o'clock Saturday until 11 o'clock last night, consumed half an hour

On motion of Mr. Dingley a resolution was adopted for the appointment of a committee of three members to join a similar committee from the senate to wait upon the president and inform him that congress was ready to adjourn and ascertain if he had any further communication to make. The speaker appointed Messrs. Dingley, Cannon and Sayers. Mr. Turner, on behalf of the minority, offered the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the thanks of this house are due and are hereby tendered to Hon. Thomas B. Reed, speaker of the house of representatives, for the ability, efficiency and strict impartiality with which he has discharged the ardorous and responsible duties of his office during the present session of congress."

The presentation of the resolution was greeted with a round of applause and was enthusiastically adopted by a standing vote.

While Mr. Jenkins was trying to secure action on the senate bill for the relief of the administrator of Henry Van Vleck which involved an expenditure of $4 500, Mr. Wheeler got the floor and made it a text for a statement as to the marvelous growth of the governmental expenditures during recent years. He declared that the cost of the United States government, federal, state and municipal, was the largest on earth, reaching $1,100,000,000 per annum.

Mr. Owens raised a laugh at Mr. Wheeler's expense by calling his attention to the fact that if the Van Vleck bill went through it would increase the grand total of our expenditures to $1,100,004 500 The bill was passed, but in order to prevent further clamor for recognition the house took a recess until 2 o'clock.

The house adjourned at 4 p m.

SENATE.

The senate began the closing day of the session without any of the confusion and activity usually incident to the departure of congress. There was a scattered attendance in the galleries during the early hours and the score of senators present gathered in groups and chatted. The last obstacle in the way of adjournment was removed when soon after the session opened, the enrolling clerks brought in the last of the great supply bills—that for the District of Columbia—and it was signed by the vice president and soon thereafter dispatched to the white house for the signature of the president. This done, business was suspended until Mr. Sherman secured the passage of a house bill pensioning the widow of Gen. William H. Gibson, of Ohio, at $50 per month. Then the galleries were cleared for a brief executive session, after which the open session was resumed.

The monotonous waits were broken at intervals by routine reports from the house. On motion of Mr. Platt the immigration bill, which had been displaced, was made the unfinished business. The effect is to give the bill the right of way when the December session begins. At 1 o'clock Mr. Sherman moved the appointment of two senators to accompany the committee of the house to wait on the president. The vice president named Senators Sherman and Smith.

The vice president also announced the appointment of Senators Harris, Faulkner and McMillan as a committee to inquire into the charities of the District of Columbia with a view to ascertaining the extent of sectarian control The inquiry was provided for in the District of Columbia appropriation bill. At 1:30 the senate took a recess until 3 p. m.

ADJOURNED.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Vice President Stevenson declared the senate adjourned at 4 p. m.

THE LAST DAY

Of the Editorial Association Meeting.

Entertainment and Banquet Last Night.

Synopsis of Addresses—Last Session Was Held at Swift Park This Forenoon.

At the opening session of the convention of the Northern Indiana Editorial association yesterday afternoon, President John B. Stoll, of the South Bend Times, delivered his annual address He reviewed the history of the association and his address was full of interesting points which were well appreciated. B. F. Louthain, of the Logansport Pharos, read a paper on "The Best Method of Obtaining Advanced Payment of Subscriptions to Weekly Papers." He recommended not sending the paper to any one who does not pay in advance. Another plan which he has found successful is a yearly drawing of presents in a gift distribution, each cash in advance subscriber being given a ticket in the drawing.

The paper of Charles E. Wilson, of the Lafayette Courier, on the "Modern Newspaper," was very interesting. He told what it required to make a successful paper, but showed plainly that there were no fixed rules that could be followed in bringing about this success

The general subject of advertising was next taken up. W. B Westlake, of the Marion Leader, talked on rates, and Charles Haas, of the Wabash Plaindealer, on position. Mr. Haas denounced the autocratic foreign advertiser who demands a certain position or nothing.

M. H. Ingram, of the Winamac Democrat Journal, talked on how to secure foreign ads. He said the best way to handle foreign ads was not to have any of them in the paper. He does not like them

J. E Sutton, of the Logansport Reporter, gave an interesting talk on securing local ads. He says he keeps a man in his employ whose principal duty it is to solicit local reading notices, and he finds that it is a paying plan.

The address of W. D. Page, of the Fort Wayne News, on "Illegitimate Competition the Bane of the Newspaper Business," was one of the best of the meeting. He contended that the use of "patent insides" was an illegitimate competition, but that the principal trouble was with the fly-by-night papers that are established at so many places to live a year or six months. They keep patronage away from substantial papers while they last and then they die out.

A. P. Kent, of the Elkhart Review, talked on "The Editor and His Readers." He spoke in favor of the clean, moral toned newspaper, in which there should be no slang nor unmannerly phrases. He also favored the reading of newspapers in the schools.

H. C. Rockhill, of the Fort Wayne Journal, read a paper on "Machine Composition," which was listened to with marked attention. Machine composition is a subject in which all newspaper people are becoming more and more interested, and Mr. Rockhill's talk explained a good many points to them.

Early last evening the visitors were taken on a street car excursion about the city, and later an entertainment was given at the Masonic Temple theater by the Press club of Fort Wayne in their honor, followed by a banquet at the rooms of the Fort Wayne club.

During the afternoon, from 3 to 5 o'clock, the ladies of the Press club tendered the visiting ladies an informal reception at the Fort Wayne club. The rooms were decorated with ferns and vases of sweet peas. Pineapple ice and cakes were served by the Misses Charlotte Lowry, Helen Moffat, Sadie Rockhill, Katherine MacDougal, Edith Yarnelle, Agnes Seabrease and Alice Crane. Musical numbers were given by the Misses Stella Sweringen, Katherine Hattersley, Kate MacDougal and Josephene Albert. The ladies of the press of the city were the reception committee. Many ladies from the city were present and gave a cordial welcome to the visitors.

The ladies who are in attendance at the association are Meadames J. A. Barnes, of Auburn; C. H. Rerick, Lagrange, F. W. Willis, Waterloo; E. J. Marsh, Portland; J. E. Walker, Noblesville; A. C. Beeson, Winchester; F. J. Zimmerman, Warsaw; J. E. Sutton, Logansport; W. B. Westlake, Marion; T. A. Starr, Toledo; B. F. Louthain, Logansport; Charles Wilson, Lafayette; J. W. Baker, Columbia City; M. H. Ingrim, Winamac; E J Gorrell, Winamac, and the Misses Edith and Charlotta Brown, Columbia City; May Parker, Kendallville; Hattie Conlogue, Kendallville; Mame McDonald, Ligonier; M. Blackburn, Decatur; E. Mae Atwater, Hamlet, and Mrs. Nora T. Gause, Aurora, Ill.

The entertainment at the Masonic Temple theater was well attended and the program rendered is spoken of by the visitors as being pleasing Seats were reserved in the parquet for the guests and the public was admitted to what remained. No admission was charged.

The program was begun with an overture by Reineke's orchestra and followed with a song by the Haydn quartet. The quartette, which is composed of Messrs E F. Yarnelle, A. J. Lang, Chas. H. Worden and Chas. L Olds, is one of the finest in northern Indiana, and was given an ovation by the audience and compelled to respond to an encore.

Mr. C. D Tillo was down on the program for a thirty-minute welcome address. He came on to the stage, unfolded a big mass of manuscript, and after telling of the wonderful growth of our city and some of her manufacturing industries, was about to launch out in an oratorical flight in praise of the Newspaper Union and the daily press when two policemen of the city force, Officers Elliott and Geegline, appeared from behind the scenes, and, interrupting him, led him off the stage. This brought down the house and the audience went wild with applause.

The next number on the program was a solo, "Love's Sorrow," by Miss Geo Long. Miss Long is a favorite in Fort Wayne, and she also proved so with the visiting editors last night. She was enthusiastically received and, responding to the applause, rendered a second selection.

Mr. Will Friond then came on the stage and entertained the audience with a comic sketch, which was finely rendered and well received. He, too, was given an encore, but begged to be excused when he was called out for the third time. Mr. Friend is a member of one of the best theatrical companies of the country and is a natural born actor. He is a Fort Wayne boy and is now passing his summer vacation in this city.

The Haydn quartet favored the audiences with another song and then, after a selection by the orchestra, the evening's entertainment at the Temple closed with a serio-comic farce entitled, "Is the Editor In?" gotten up by the newspaper reportorial gang for the occasion. It was illustrative of the trials and tribulations of the editor, and, aside from the parts taken by the members of the local press gang, was well rendered, notwithstanding the fact that it had only been given one alleged previous rehearsal. Mr. Charles Hartman, who took the principal character, that of "Editor Pastepot," was formerly a theatrical man and he rendered his character last night in a manner that showed his excellence as an actor. Mr. A. R. Hirons, as "Mrs. Boodlum," made a decided hit and played the aggrieved female subscriber to perfection. Tony Zero, as the office devil, also did well and amused the audience with his antics.

The entertainment closed with this farce and then the visiting editors, the ladies and the invited guests repaired to the Fort Wayne club, where a banquet was served by Manager C. D. Tillo, of the Fort Wayne Newspaper Union.

The banquet tables were spread in the large hall of the club and here the guests were served with a most sumptuous bill of fare. Very handsome engraved souvenir menu cards were presented each guest. Carnations were used as decorations and favors and vases of roses and pinks adorned each table. Supper over with, Mrs. J. A. Barnes, of Auburn, acting as toastmistress—and she won praise for her graceful, able manner of presiding—the following toasts were given and responded to:

"The Newspaper: How to Buy the Stock"—J. W. Baker, of the Columbia City Commercial

"The Newspaper: How to Print It"—B. F. Louthain, of the Logansport Pharos.

"The Newspaper: How to get the News"—J. E. Sutton, of the Logansport Reporter.

"The Newspaper: How to Make it Readable"—E. O. Rose, of the Angola Magnet.

"The Newspaper. How to Circulate It"—A. P. Kent, of the Elkhart Review.

Editor T. A. Starr, of the Toledo Evening Bee, was present and Manager Tillo called on him for a speech. Mr. Starr responded in a happy way. Reineke's orchestra then played a closing selection and the guests, after a brief social time, left for their homes.

The session this morning opened at the city hall and after the discussion of one or two papers an adjournment was taken to Swift park. The Consolidated railway company invited the visitors to take an excursion trip to this beautiful resort this morning and the invitation was accepted. It was the intention of the association to continue the business of the meeting at the park, including the election of officers for the ensuing year.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The following officers were elected at the meeting held at Swift's park:

President—J. B. Stoll, South Bend

First Vice President—E A. K Hackett, Fort Wayne

Second Vice President—Mrs J. B Barnes, Auburn.

Recording Secretary—J. S Conlogue, of Kendallville.

Treasurer—Dr. A. S. Parker, of Kendallville.

Legislative Committee—Charles A. Bass, Wabash; Peter Walrath, Logansport; J. E. McDonald, Ligonier; F. W. Willis, Waterloo.

The street car company covered themselves over with glory and the newspaper men attending the convention never tire talking of the good time they had today visiting Swift park. The street car company not only gave them a ride through the city and to the feeble minded school, but while at the park gave them a banquet that would have been good enough for a lot of kings or magistrates. All thanks to the street car company. The newspaper men of Northern Indiana will remember them as long as they live and some of them give promise of living a long time. The park is a beautiful place to spend a few hours, and since the street car company has decided that no intoxicating liquors shall ever be sold there it will be a very popular place for our people

STIRRED UP A RIOT.

Police Arrest a Gang at the Merry-Go-Round.

Had Been Insulting Women—Crowd so Large as to Stop the Street Cars.

A gang of toughs who were in the crowd at the merry go round on Calhoun street, near Brackenridge street, last night stirred up a row that for a time developed into a riot.

Edward Smith and James Nolan insulted a woman who was standing near. She reported the offense to Officer Greer, who was there, and he placed the two fellows under arrest. Several of the pals of the prisoners attempted to take Smith and Nolan away from the officer, and he gave them a merry fight until Officers Murphy and Passino came to his rescue. The three policemen used their clubs with telling effect, but the crowd was so great that it was almost impossible for them to get their prisoners away from their gang of friends. In fact the street was so packed that street cars were stopped, being unable to proceed. Finally, however, the patrol wagon arrived and the officers succeeded in getting their men into it. This morning all four were in police court. Smith and Nolan were charged with drunkenness and insulting women. They were fined $14 50 each. Smith paid and Nolan went to jail. The other two, Frank Miller and Frederick Pope, were fined $10 50 each for being drunk and disorderly.

The crowd that nightly gathers about the merry-go round is mighty tough and the police should make a clean sweep of it. For women to be insulted while passing along there on the street is something new.

PETE MERZ JAILED.

The Local Tough Captured This Morning.

He Was in the Crowd at Police Court When Sergeant Daseler Caught Sight of Him.

Pete Merz, brother to Sleepy Merz who is now in jail, walked into the arms of the police this morning in the very easiest way. Some months ago the two Merz boys assaulted Pittsburg Detective Dee Stoll with clubs in the Pittsburg railroad yards, near Hanna street, and came near killing him. Warrants were at once sworn out for their arrest but they got away and remained under cover until a couple of weeks ago when Deputy Sheriff Harrod captured Sleepy at the LaPearl circus grounds, on the jail flats, and locked him up after a hard fight. Sleepy is now awaiting trial on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill.

Pete, however, remained in hiding better than his tough brother. This morning he was seen for the first time. The police have had the warrant in their hands for his arrest ever since the assault was committed. During police court this morning Sergeant Daseler noticed Pete in the crowd. He was standing in the rear of room, where he supposed he would not be noticed, but Daseler's eye caught him and the officer immediately placed him under arrest. It was a clear case of walking into jail.

The warrant was sworn out before Justice Bullerman and Pete will have a preliminary hearing before him.

Merz was taken before Justice Bullerman and upon promise to leave the city and stay away for two years he was turned loose.

WEDDED TODAY.

Marriage of Miss Alice L. Hamil and Mr. E. B. Johns.

A Toledo Newspaper Man Wins the Heart and Hand of One of Fort Wayne's Teachers.

This morning, at 10.40 o'clock, at the Wayne street M. E church, occurred the marriage of Miss Alice L. Hamil, of this city, and Mr. Edward B. Johns, of Toledo. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Henry W. Bennett, the pastor of the church, in the presence of a number of the friends of the contracting parties.

The ceremony at the church was a very brief but a pretty one. As the bride and groom entered and walked up the aisle, preceded by the flower bearers, the Misses Jessie Orff and Marie Lorton, the wedding march was played on the organ by Miss Clara Bennett and then the two lovers, joining hands, were made man and wife, by the brief but beautiful ceremony pronounced by the bride's pastor.

The marriage form over, the newly wedded couple were driven to the home of the bride's aunt, Miss Belle O'Connor, 116 Clinton street, where an elegant wedding breakfast was served to a small company of relatives and friends. At 11:45 Mr and Mrs. Johns left over the Wabash for Toledo, their future home.

The bride is a charming lady who for several years has been a teacher in our public schools and has a large circle of friends in this city, whose best wishes for her happiness and prosperity will follow her to her new home. The groom was some years ago connected with the Gazette, of this city, but is now railroad editor of the Evening Blade, of Toledo.

Connected with the marriage of these young people is a love romance that may be interesting When Mr. Johns resided in this city some years ago he and Miss Hamil were engaged to be married at that time, but for some reason, known only to lovers, they became estranged and the engagement was broken. He went to Toledo and the two did not meet again until last winter, when he was in this city on business. At that time chance brought them together, the old love flame was rekindled, and the marriage of this morning was the result.

GANG OF TRAMPS

Terrorizing People Near the East Yards.

The Police and Deputy Sheriffs Called Out to Subdue Them—A Woman Robbed.

About noon today the police were called to the east yards by a report that a tramp had gone through a house and stolen a pocketbook containing a dollar. The wagon made the run but could find no tramp and returned empty handed.

Later the sheriff's deputies were called out to investigate the same case, but at 2:30 this afternoon they had not yet returned. It was said that a gang of tramps were raising a big disturbance in the neighborhood of the east yards, frightening women and committing other depredations.

BRITAIN'S DEMAND

Put in the Form of a Polite Request.

Dole's Government Will "Please Pardon Col. Ashford" and Restore Him to Citizenship.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—The steamer Australia from Honolulu today brings confirmation of the Associated Press news concerning the demand made by Great Britain that Volney Ashford be permitted to return to Hawaii. The Dole government is very much excited over the report, but the president of the little republic is pursuing a conservative course in dealing with the matter. The news of England's demand originated in Washington, D. C., and was forwarded in private correspondence to an Hawaiian paper and several private concerns. The situation is said to be that Great Britain has made a rather sharp demand upon this government on behalf of Col. V. V. Ashford. The "request" is stated as the suggestion, in diplomatic sentences, that a pardon be issued to Ashford and that he be permitted to return to Hawaii without conditions of any sort It is stated by the Honolulu Star that the republic declines to accept the British foreign officer's view of this case, refuses to grant the pardon or remove the ban, and adds that if Col. Ashford is landed under British auspices or other protection until there has been an extended and complete review of the case, the action will be at least protested.

There is a likelihood of Hawaii calling upon the United States to extend its offices in the dispute. Colonel Ashford was convicted by the military commission of misrepresentation and treason. The evidence was that he had advance knowledge of the outbreak. His sentence was imprisonment for a year and a fine of $1,000. He was then ill and is still a sick man. After a few weeks "on the reef," the man who had once been prominent and honored in Hawaii, was given suspension of fine and imprisonment on condition that he leave the country never to return. It was then generally understood that after a reasonable lapse of time he would be allowed to come back on making proper request. In letters to Hawaii on British subjects mixed up in the revolution and trial, the queen's foreign office gave the opinion that court martial was unconstitutional and that there could be no objection to any of the British cases except Ashford. It was claimed that the evidence against him was insufficient. It seems that Colonel Ashford has followed up this point. The understanding is that the Hawaiian minister of foreign affairs is preparing an answer to the "request."

At the Westminster seminary last night a reception for the graduating class was held. Fully 500 guests called during the evening, between the hours of 8 and 11, and they were received by the graduates, Misses Rurode, Taylor, Sale and Matthews, assisted by Mrs. D. B. Wells, Miss Carrie B. Sharp, Miss Julia McKee, of Remington, Ind., and Miss Mary Swope, of Seymour, Ind. Reineke's orchestra furnished music for the occasion. Light refreshments were served in the dining room, under charge of Miss Lewis. The dining room was prettily decorated with the class colors, green and gold, and in the yard there were brilliant illuminations by colored lights and lanterns. The affair was one of much pleasure.

distribution of gold and silver states in the democratic party.

Ex-Congressman Thomson, of the McKinley forces, says that a pure and simple gold standard will be adopted at St Louis This is encouraging, but the country would prefer to hear from McKinley direct

Old time Fourth of July celebrations are almost a thing of the past The people have found out that big parades and big crowds give but little recreation to those who desire a holiday. The favored way now is to pass the day in a quiet manner in some shady nook away from the busy hum and excitement of every day life It is in this way that invigorating rest is gained.

The St Louis convention, which meets next Tuesday will, from present indications, be one of the most protracted conventions in our national history There are 15 contests to be decided. Tom Platt predicts that the convention will not get down to voting before Monday, the 22d. It is suspected that Platt will keep the convention in session as long as he can, hoping meanwhile to put up a job to defeat McKinley's nomination. This he can do by making a fight in the committee on contested seats

Senator Cullom, of Illinois, who pulled out of the presidential race concedes the nomination of McKinley and says he reckons Morton will be nominated for vice president, unless Reed shall. Should Morton be nominated, his career will be a repetition, to some extent, of that of Governor Hendricks, of Indiana. Hendricks was twice a candidate for vice president, the two candidacies being separated by an interval of eight years—first in 1876 then in 1884. Morton was a candidate in 1888, and may possibly be again in 1896.

When the colored delegates of the republican party reach St Louis, unless the prospect decidedly brightens, they will not have a place where to lay their heads. What shall, then, be done with the negro delegates? Every hotel and boarding house came out flatfooted and declared that it would entertain no negro guest or customer. Money is no object. Threats of prosecution have had no effect and from the present outlook it would seem that unless tents are secured the black men will have to go hungry and unhoused. Quarters have been engaged at no less than three hotels for negroes, but when the delegation leaders arrived the arrangements were repudiated.

The republican national platform relating to finance, adopted at Minneapolis in 1892, was as follows: "The American people from tradition and interest favor bimetallism and the republican party demands the use of gold and silver as standard money, with restrictions and under such provisions, to be determined by legislation, as will secure maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal. The interest of the producers of the country, its farmers and its workingmen, demand that every dollar paper or coin, issued by the government shall be as good as any other This was the language of Senator Henry M. Teller. He dictated the draft. He represented the republican silverites then as he does now. It was the republican bid of 1892 for the silver vote.

for interfering with his command to shoot the two Americans caught on the Competitor.

The edict will affect American cigar manufacturers seriously. We have in this country plenty of tobacco to fill a cigar, and a good one. But the long, fine leaf that wraps it and holds it fast together in the cigar comes from Cuba, and it will be impossible to replace it. If that were the worst, we might recommend smokers to turn to pipes for their solace, or wrap their cigar filling material in cigarette paper, or any paper, or smoke paper out and out or stop smoking altogether, which would doubtless be good for their nerves.

But unfortunately that is not the worst. The young tobacco crop of Cuba, what the revolutionists have left of it, belongs mostly already to American manufacturers. They have advanced money on it as it stood in the fields. They have immense warehouses in Cuba in which the crop is gathered, waiting to be shipped to the United States. To lose both their money and the tobacco, for which they have paid, will bankrupt many of them. Large numbers of tobacco factories will be shut down here, hundreds, probably thousands, of men will be thrown out of employment. This was Weyler's little revenge on Americans.

There will, however, be one thing left for the workmen out of employment. They can enlist in the Cuban patriot army, steal over the island help whip the Spaniards out of the island, so as to bring prosperity back. Most of them will particularly enjoy doing this no doubt.

Electricity From Coal.

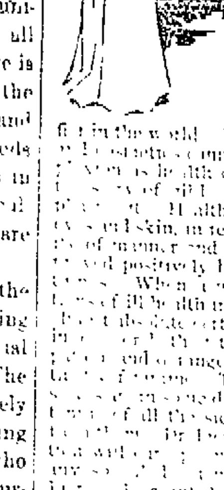

If a successful process for obtaining electric power directly from coal without the intervention of furnaces, boilers, dynamos has not been discovered, it is certainly a most promising step towards it. [illegible] New York chemist have solved the problem [illegible] has been at work on the same thing for 15 years.

Along the wire flows a stream of electricity ten times as powerful as that obtained from the same amount of carbon or coal by the ordinary process—at least so Dr. Jacques claims. The electricity is generated by the air and carbon. The soda merely enables them to unite.

Korea has nothing against the United States anyhow. She has granted to an American syndicate the privilege of building a railroad within her kingdom. The road will extend from the capital of Korea, Seoul, to her seaport, Chemulpo. The American is everywhere. It is agreeable to find in connection with the concession that Russia, now the virtual controller of Korea, not only interposed no objection to the grant, but actually approved it, and the Russian minister at Seoul gave useful suggestions to the enterprising Yankees who planned the road. This shows a most cordial feeling on the part of Russia to the United States. Citizens of few other nations would have been allowed to construct a railroad in Korea. That is because Russia knows the United States minds its own business, wants no additional territory and is not the least bit of a jingo, the scolding charges of President Eliot of Harvard to the contrary notwithstanding.

The British house of lords will now have to go sure enough. Labouchere has proclaimed war to the knife against them. There is only one obstacle to the accomplishment of Labouchere's magnificent scheme of forming an advanced radical section in the house of commons which shall work to extend progressive ideas through the country and make parliament a thoroughly democratic body. That is that nobody except himself can be persuaded to take Labouchere seriously.

The nineteenth century is nearly 100 years of age, yet the old fellow is every bit as lively as he was at the beginning of his career In his ninety-seventh year he gives us at one and the same time the deadly cholera in Egypt, the magnificent and joyful coronation of the czar in Russia, a war of extermination in Cuba and a bitter fight on the free silver question in the United States.

SHE COULD NOT LIVE.

WHILE HER LOVED HUSBAND REPOSED IN THE GRAVE.

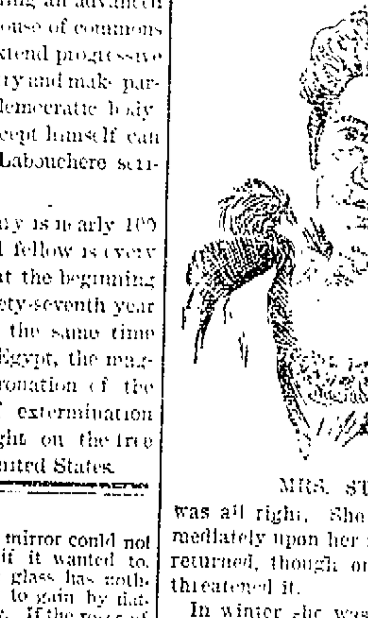

THE BEAUTIFUL YOUNG WIDOW STETSON PINED AWAY AND DIED.

Laid to Rest Less Than a Fortnight After the Death of Her Husband Romance of a Pretty Circus Equestrienne.

CIRCLE of honest friends which girdles America will be shocked to hear of the sudden death of Kate Stokes Stetson, the beautiful creature who married John Stetson, the Boston manager of the Globe theater. Mrs. Stetson was ardently attached to her peculiar husband, and grieved with such sincere heartache that the nervous prostration following his demise a short time ago finally resulted in death the other morning in Boston. Kate Stokes was one of the most dashing and brilliantly handsome women in America. She began her career as a bareback circus rider of the most daring accomplishments and grace. Her father used to run the Stokes amphitheater on Clinton street in Chicago, and bewitching Kate was the joy of impressionable youth and bald searchers after novel sensation. She would run into the ring like a blaze of superb loveliness, toss her hair and leap to the horse's bare back with as sure a foot as Steve Brodie's. She smiled and grew less in the most bewildering fashion, and was always carefully watched by her mother, who never allowed anybody else to chaperon her charming little daughter. When Kate grew into womanhood she was taken away from the sawdust ring and placed in a boarding school, where her beauty and escapades variously brought her into romantic view of an interested coterie which had never reveled in her public exhibitions of daredevil pluck. Still her mother watched over her and her father surrounded her with such simple luxuries as his circus savings allowed. Just when the rumor that Stetson would marry Vernona Jarbeau was rife, Kate Stokes appeared in New York, chaperoned by her comely mother, and the two were frequently guests at John Stetson's Fifth Avenue theater. Without more than the usual financial warning in quiet breach-of-promises cases, Jarbeau fluttered into the field of Jake Bernstein, a wealthy Hebrew, and announcement of the probable marriage of pretty Miss Stokes to John Stetson came soon after the Jarbeau episode became known. Stetson was completely captivated by the handsome circus rider, and through his influence the fearless equestrienne secured an appearance in legitimate comedy, for which she not only had an ardent penchant but considerable talent. Instantly her beauty captured New York, she was the club toast for a season, but demurely lived in comparative seclusion with her mother, accepting the admiration and compliment of the clubs with much proper scorn. She was tall as Shakespeare's Rosalind and had astonishing muscular strength, coupled with the daintiest of curves and delicately feminine beauty of outline. Her skin was rich in color, clear as a lily petal and full of delicious little changes, from a blush to exquisite pallor. Her teeth were savage, small and kittenishly white and her mouth a nose Bouguereau and Botticelli painted—red and beautifully curved, rather thin, but soft and perfect. She married Stetson, and the manager squandered his money upon his lovely wife. There was between them that unemotional, placid sort of sulky devotion sometimes observed in compatibly mated pairs in peasantry or bourgeois couples. Stetson permitted Kate all sorts of liberties, and Kate took them neither greedily nor indifferently, but as due, with no particular return of thanks, and her affection for John was deep-rooted and big-hearted.

When John had occasion to travel Kate went with him, and when Kate had occasion to travel John thought it was all right. She left the stage immediately upon her marriage and never returned, though once in awhile she threatened it.

In winter she was a wonderfully active creature, always out wrapped from her lovely black head to her tiny feet in costly furs. She would walk leisurely and seemingly unconscious of the sensation her beauty created wherever she chose to wander. She had Russian vehicles, toboggan sleds, horses of her own selection, and she was the most daring and accomplished rider on the Back bay and carried terror to timid winter drivers in Central park and on the tally-ho roads in New York

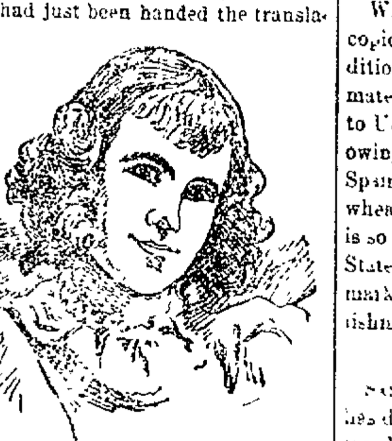

In summer she had one of the trimmest steam and sail yachts among Boston craft and often went on long cruises alone with her crew and a few congenial spirits. Her sailor suits were wonderfully swagger affairs, usually imported and always original and immensely fetching. Sometimes in her hunting trips and long sails about in strange waters she would arm herself with a piquant brace of pistols set in jewels and stuck in a leather belt studded with gold and made more amusingly terrific by a jeweled dagger showing its hilt and sheath tip.

She had famously shapely feet and her footgear occupied shelves enough to fit up a good-sized shop. Her jewels were fabulous in price and once in awhile exceptional in value. She owned one or two of the world's most celebrated gems and had coronets, necklaces and a bundle of garter buckles not equaled by the treasures of any other Boston dame's private casket.

When Stetson's wealth and the beauty of his wife had grown into great notoriety John bethought himself of society and made a masse shot to seat himself and the buxom Katie in the heart of Back bay aristocracy. But a silent thunder cloud from the marble-heart district greeted this harmless ambition of the pretty circus rider and her husband.

Neither of them cared much, and the splendid Stetson castle, which sits obstreperously up in the polished ward of commonwealth avenue, has never been consecrated by Boston swelldom, but it was a great place just the same and entertainments of solid if somewhat ostentatious hospitality brightened its years and Mr. and Mrs. Stetson grew to be most happy in their pleasant bohemian circle of friends, who were always glad of an invitation to visit the big house.

A witty financier who had been unsuccessful in securing a loan from Stetson called at the palace on Commonwealth avenue and sent up his card. John had just been handed the translation of Dumas' "Demi-Monde" and sent back the man's card, with the information written in the corner: "Can't see you. I'm just in the middle of 'The Crust of Society.'" The financier sent up another, upon which he wrote: "So glad you have succeeded in breaking in after all the rebuffs society has given you."

REYNOLDS' BIVALVE PARASITES

The Remarkable Affliction of a Professor Who Dwells in Texas.

Prof Reynolds, of Georgetown, Texas, has the unpleasant distinction of being afflicted with a disease the like of which is not known in medical science. Many noted physicians have examined his case, and until recently no solution of its mystery has been found. The disease is caused by countless myriads of animalcule which burrow under the skin, causing great pain. When rubbed briskly with the hand his body would give off small particles very closely resembling brown sand. The case was first brought to the attention of Dr. Fleming, of Georgetown, who made a very thorough study of it and reported it in several medical journals. Last week Prof. Reynolds went to San Antonio to have City Physician Menger make a microscopical examination. Dr. Menger conducted a series of microscopical examinations, and not only succeeded in detecting the parasite, but has made several photographs of it. He says it is the most wonderful discovery ever made on the human body as far as his knowledge of the subject goes. The particles taken from the body look like common sand, are dark brown in color, and are barely visible to the naked eye. When placed in acid the particles foam like seidlitz powders, and they can be seen under the microscope giving off carbonic gas. Acids also make the particles transparent, and they easily crumble into very fine powder. The parasite is encased in a shell, or rather two shells. The parasite itself, when placed under a powerful microscope, looks very much like a grab spider. It has eight legs, four in front and four behind. The front legs protrude and look like horns.

Betting on "L" Trains.

There's some high betting going on at the 33d street station of the 6th avenue elevated road at about 2 o'clock every morning. The trains from up and down town pass each other at this station at that time, and you will notice a group of men standing on the platforms, looking at their watches and noting the approach of the engines, whose headlights shimmer along the rails. They are betting boxes of cigars drinks and dinners upon which train will reach the station first, and they all take the interest in it which passengers on the Atlantic liners take in an ocean race. Theoretically the trains are supposed to reach the station at the same time. In practice there is a difference of ten or fifteen seconds in the favor of one or the other every morning.—New York Herald.

Eczema All Her Life.

Mr. E. D. Jenkins, of Lithonia, Ga., says that his daughter, Ida, inherited a severe case of Eczema, which the usual mercury and potash remedies failed to relieve. Year by year she was treated with various medicines, external applications and internal remedies, without result. Her sufferings were intense, and her condition grew steadily worse. All the so-called blood remedies did not seem to reach the disease at all until S. S.S. was given, when an improvement was at once noticed. The medicine was continued with favorable results, and now she is cured sound and well, her skin is perfectly clear and pure and she has been saved from what threatened to blight her life forever.

S.S.S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) cures Eczema, Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, or any other blood trouble. It is a real blood remedy and always cures even after all else fails.

Grain Crops.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Owing to copious rains early in May last the condition of the Spanish grain crops has materially improved. Still, according to United States Consul Fay, at Denia, owing to the diminished area of crops, Spain will import 600,000,000 pounds of wheat. He suggests that as no country is so favorably situated as the United States to supply this demand, this market may be secured by the establishment of direct steamship lines.

Cured of Gallstones.

May 27th, 1896.

The Dr. J. H. McLean Medicine Co., ST. LOUIS, MO.

GENTLEMEN: For upwards of ten years I suffered from what the doctors called neuralgia of the stomach, but they could do nothing for me. At one time I was taken with a most excruciating pain and in my agony I prayed for death to relieve me. My husband sent to Lincoln for another doctor, who came, and after examination, pronounced my trouble to be gallstones. The only relief I received was when the doctors injected morphine, and that was only temporary. I was reading in your almanac where

DR. J. H. McLEAN'S LIVER and KIDNEY BALM

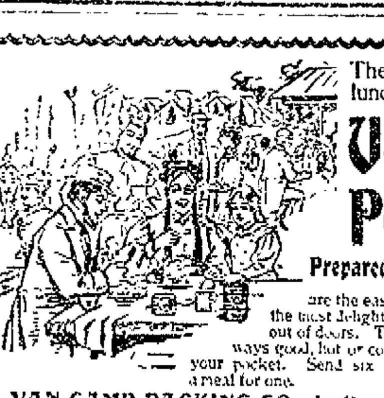

Cured a case of gallstones. My husband thought I had better try it, so he bought a bottle. That bottle gave me so much relief I was encouraged to keep on with it. I used seven bottles, and am now, thanks to its great healing power, cured sound and well. I am unable to express my gratitude to you for the benefit I have received from your wonderful medicine. I have recommended it to many people since my recovery, and shall always do so when I have the opportunity. You may make use of this letter in any way you desire. Yours respectfully,

REMARKABLE TESTIMONY IN THE COURTS OF LOUISIANA OF EMINENT PHYSICIANS AS TO THE CURATIVE EFFECTS OF A WONDERFUL Mississippi Mineral Spring.

(FROM THE HARTFORD, CONN., TIMES.)

In an action of law recently instituted by the Stafford Mineral Springs and Hotel Company, limited, of New Orleans, who also have a depot at 256 Broadway, New York, and whose Springs are near Vossburg, Miss., the the suit is against E. J. Hart & Co., wholesale druggists of New Orleans. Depositions regarding the character and medicinal value of the Stafford Mineral Spring Water was taken by order of the Civil District Court in the parish of Orleans, State of Louisiana, of a number of leading physicians of New York, Brooklyn, New Orleans, and elsewhere, which depositions were supplemented by the testimony of numerous physicians in open court at the trial of the case.

Among the physicians testifying as to the curative effects of the water in Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Cystitis, and other Kidney, Bladder, and Stomach troubles were:

Dr. Edward Bradley of New York, formerly demonstrator of anatomy, New York Medical College; Dr. Frank E. Miller of New York; Dr. Job Corbin, medical director, United States Navy, Brooklyn; Dr. J. B. Elliot, professor of the theory and practice of medicine, Tulane University, New Orleans; Professor Metz, state Chemist of Louisiana; Dr. Wm. E. Brickell of New Orleans, and a host of other physicians.

There is no record of any testimony so strong and positive in its nature having ever been given under oath by any physicians in the history of medicine.

It is impossible to ignor the fact that this testimony is that of honorable, dignified, and eminent members of the medical profession. To ignor it is to deny the truth, a dangerous thing to do.

This water is for sale by all druggists.

Florenz Boerger Dies of Stomach Trouble.

The Panhandle Wants a Differential—The Maccabee's Excursion to Eagle Lake.

Florenz J. Boerger, who had been ailing with stomach troubles for some time, died at his home, 183 East Washington street, at 6 o'clock last night The funeral will take place next Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from Salem Reformed church. Mr. Boerger was born in this city forty years ago and resided here all his life. He was a boilermaker by trade and for the past ten years worked in the Pittsburg shops. Previous to that time he was in the city's fire department two or three years. His wife preceded him to the grave by a half dozen years, leaving one child, a little girl, who is now eleven years old.

WANT A DIFFERENTIAL.

For the first time in its history the Pennsylvania lines have applied for a differential. There will be a strong fight against granting it on the part of competing lines It has made an application to the joint traffic board for a differential of $2 on first-class and $1 on second-class passenger business from New York to Chicago in connection with its Panhandle route. The west bound differential, if granted, would apply over the Pennsylvani main line from New York to Pittsburg and thence over the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis line to Chicago The fares at present by that route are $20 for first-class and $19 for second-class General Passenger Agent Wood of the Pennsylvania claims that by the Panhandle route the Pennsylvania facilities are inferior, and that it is therefore entitled to a reduction. All the Pennsylvania's fast trains and best equipped trains are sent to Chicago over the Fort Wayne route. Over the Panhandle route it has only one New York Chicago train with a through sleeper. Competing lines, it claims, have been recently adding superior facilities in the way of equipment for the New York Chicago service, and that its Panhandle route has been placed at a disadvantage.

MACCABEE EXCURSION.

The Maccabee excursion to Eagle Lake this morning numbered 132 people; 116 of whom were citizens of this city. The train left here with six coaches, expecting to pick up passengers at all intermediate points. A dozen or more persons who could not go on the early train, went down to the lake at 39 at noon. The Big Four road turned a lot of Maccabee excursionists over to the Pittsburg at Warsaw, and Conductors Cliff Ellenwood and Joe Keeler went down there to take up the coupons. Another excursion train to Eagle Lake ran over the west end of the Pittsburg line this morning, starting from Valparaiso and reaching its destination at the same time as the Lima and Fort Wayne excursionists. The crew of the latter was Conductor Kinzie Kimmell, Engineer Frank Whitney, Fireman Maloney and Brakemen Jesse Hamlet and Robert Brown.

Sickness prevents George Moore, the well known Nickel Plate passenger engineer, from going out with his engine, and that duty is being performed by Engineer William Morris.

Tomorrow the Wabash will place its St. Louis convention tickets on sale and continue to issue them until Monday evening next. The rate has been fixed at $10 and tickets are good returning until June 21.

The board of managers of the Joint Traffic association have issued an order that hereafter packing for freight shall not be furnished by the railroad companies, but by the shippers. This applies especially to perishable goods.

The Panhandle has been sued for $2,000 by Richard M. Beck, at Marion, the amount being claimed as damages on account of the appropriation of land owned by him at the time the double track was put down in Marion. The case is now on trial.

C. M. Jones, chief clerk at the Pittsburg freight house, Mrs. Jones and their daughter, Miss Blanche, will leave this evening on No. 8 for Ogdensburg, N. Y., on their regular annual vacation. They expect to be absent from home about two weeks

F. H. Short, secretary and treasurer of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, has held that position forty-four years, with the exception of the three years he was president of that company, he beginning service with the road in that capacity in 1852.

Hardy, the ten year old son of Louis Sietter, of the Pittsburg shops, is recovering from a surgical operation performed by Dr. J. Stutz. The lad was vaccinated two or three years ago and a tumor developed from the wound. This was removed by the surgeon.

Isaac Sidle, the oldest engineer in time of service on the Wabash, has just passed a creditable examination for color blindness, etc., and has taken his run again between Fort Wayne and Toledo. Mr. Sidle a short time ago completed his thirty seventh year in the service of Wabash.

General Manager G. L. Bradbury has officially notified the local officers here of the appointment of Col. S. B. Sweet to the office of general freight agent, A. G. Young and H. J. Graham to the office of assistant general freight agents. THE SENTINEL exclusively mentioned these promotions several days ago

On the Pennsylvania lines there are available for service 2,578 passenger cars, and of this number the Pennsylvania proper owns 1,760 coaches, the Panhandle has 370, the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago 320 coaches, and the Pennsylvania transportation department can on short notice mobilize one thousand coaches at any point on its system

The Joint Traffic association has decided not to meddle with the question of the speed of trains. President Ingalls, of the Big Four took strong grounds against their meddling with that question, taking the position that lines with superior power, road bed, track service and equipment should not be handicapped by any association, the road being given the privilege to make any speed consistent with sa'ety.

Thirty-nine years ago today John Slater, the well known blacksmith, disembarked from an English ship at Castle Garden, New York. A few weeks later Mr. Slater came to Allen county, where he has resided ever since. The suit is the one of Charles Hamlin and others against the road, in which ex-President Harrison and Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll argued the main question at Toledo a few months ago.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

Only Western States Were Able to Secure Them.

WASHINGTON, June 12—Excepting the case of Savannah, Ga., the western congressmen from the four new states—Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Utah—are the only delegations which have succeeded in securing public building bills from this session of congress. The house policy has been to report no bills for new building, so after exhausting their efforts in that body the western men turned their attention to the senate. They secured amendments to the sundry civil bills and those items were the hardest fought between the two houses and threatened to prolong the session for some days. Senator Dubois, who engineered the campaign in the senate was importuned to consent to drop the amendments but the western senators and representatives refused to capitulate on any conditions and finally the house accepted them, when Mr. Wilson, of Idaho, made the motion to that effect yesterday.

WOMAN'S INFLUENCE.

The influence of women upon the civilization of the world, could never be measured.

Because of her, thrones have been established and destroyed. The flash of her eye, the touch of her hand, and we have the marvellous power of women, glorious in the possession of perfect physical health.

Lydia E. Pinkham, by her wonderful discovery of the "Vegetable Compound," has done much to place this great power in the hands of women.

She has lifted thousands and thousands out of the misery brought by displacement of the womb, and all the evils that follow diseases of the uterus.

The "Vegetable Compound" restores natural cheerfulness, destroys despondency, cures backache, strengthens the muscles, restores the womb to its normal condition, and you are changed from a physical wreck to the joy of your home and friends.

By the way—the leading druggists tell us that the demand for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is simply beyond their power of understanding, and what is best of all, it does the work and cures where the best physicians utterly fail.

QUIT KICKING.

Base Ball Patrons are Sick and Tired of It.

They Want to See Ball Playing Instead of Booby Play—Fine Game Yesterday.

	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Per ct.
Fort Wayne	36	20	7	.741
Wheeling	36	18	12	.600
New Castle	32	18	14	.562
Jackson	33	17	16	.515
Toledo	37	16	17	.485
Washington	31	13	18	.419
Saginaw	32	11	21	.344
Youngstown	30	9	21	.300

Captain Tebeau, of the Fort Wayne base ball team, might just as well learn first as last that the patrons of the base ball games do not take kindly to his manner of kicking. Whenever has a rightful kick coming to him the crowds who attend the games are with him and they at all times give him their support and encouragement whenever he has reason to raise a howl. Under such circumstances they all want him to make it good and stick to it, but they are sick and tired of his little petty, peevish kicking, which commences with the game and ends with the game. Such tactics are losing friends to the game and nobody can blame the people for being disgusted. In yesterday's game Tebeau kicked and he kicked then he kicked some more, and the result was that the crowd became tired of it.

And then if Tebeau and his men cannot win games by superior playing they deserve to lose them When Tebeau deliberately threw away a ball yesterday because he did not want it in the game he did something that was entirely out of place. Of course, there is no rule governing such a trick and it was upon this point that Tebeau, after being called down, won his kick, and succeeded in having the game thrown to Fort Wayne after Youngstown had left the field. Yet, in spite of this fact, the trick was a mean one and entirely uncalled for, because the Colts could have won the game with legitimate playing. The people of Fort Wayne enjoy nice, clean base ball but they don't want a game full of kicks and baby plays and they will not put up with it

With the exception of the above mentioned features, the game yesterday was a fine one. Swain was a puzzle to the Youngstowns until the eighth inning, when they knocked him out and Knell took his place. The Colts were also unable to hit Jordan, and at the end of the ninth inning the game stood 4 to 1 Then the squabble over Tebeau throwing the old ball away ensued and Youngstown left the field. Umpire Andrews did the only thing left for him to do, and forfeited the game to Fort Wayne by a score of 9 to 0.

The score by innings was thus:

	R	H	E.
Fort Wayne	1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 2	4	5 3
Youngst'n	0 0 0 0 1 0 0 3 0	4	8 5

Earned runs—Fort Wayne, 2; Youngstown, 2 Two base hits—Tebeau, King, Jordan, Brodie. Passed ball—O'Meara. Wild pitch—Jordan. Bases on balls—Off Swain, 5. Hit by pitcher—By Jordan, 1. Struck out—By Jordan, 4; by Swain, 3 Left on bases—Fort Wayne, 11; Youngstown, 5. Double plays—Jordan to Winters. Sacrifice hits—Steen, Brodie. Stolen bases—Tebeau, Criger, Lynch, Grey.

JACKSON, 5; WHEELING, 9

JACKSON, Mich., June 11.—Garvey was somewhat wild, but effective, and this, with Jackson's poor base running and bunched errors in the second inning, gave wheeling a poorly played game. Score:

	R	H	E.
Wheeling	1 5 0 0 0 0 0 3 *-	9	10 4
Jackson	0 2 0 0 0 2 1 0 0-	5	5 6

Batteries—Garvey and Davis; Derrick and Myers.

TOLEDO, 14; WASHINGTON, 1.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 11.—If Toledo had not been a little gay in the ninth Washington would have been shut out, and Toledo would have had an errorless game to her credit. The score:

	R	H	E
Toledo	4 0 0 0 8 2 0 0 0-	14	18 5
Washington	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1-	1	7 5

Batteries—Kelb and Arthur; Riley and Mitchell.

NEW CASTLE, 12; SAGINAW, 11.

SAGINAW, Mich., June 11.—Black's Tigers lost a game to New Castle at Union park this afternoon. Daniels went to pieces in the fourth and gave the locals eight runs, but recovered and pitched a steady game to the close. The score:

New Castle	0 0 0 6 1 1 2 1 1-	12	13 1
Saginaw	1 0 0 0 8 0 2 0 1 0-	11	14 2

Batteries—Allen, McGarry and Grey; Daniels and Lavalle.

NOTES OF THE GAME

Washington opens here today for three games. Knell and Criger are the battery today for the Colts

Saginaw is said to be on a better financial basis now than at any time during the season and the team is putting up better ball than ever.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Col., June 11.—Judge Henry C. Caldwell, of the United States circuit court, who is stopping here was asked whether he would accept a nomination for the presidency from the populist and the silver conventions at St. Louis. He replied emphatically that he would not. He stated that he wanted to vote for a silver man at the coming election but he was afraid he might have to choose between two. He thought that if the friends of silver could be brought together they could win the greatest victory for the people since the days of Lincoln.

FELL FROM A BARN ROOF.

John Dimmel, of John street, was working on the roof of his barn yesterday engaged in making some repairs, when he missed his hold and fell to the ground. He was badly shaken up, but no bones were broken.

A Sure Cure.

A man in Fort Wayne had a mother-in-law
Who was troubled much with a wagging jaw;
She scolded at morning and scolded at night
If things went wrong or things went right.
This man thought of everything high and low
To try and stop this ceaseless blow,
But everything failed until one day,
To Morgan & Co.'s he wended his way.
He examined their REFRIGERATOR line,
Then picked out one that was superfine.
He sent it out to his mother in-law;
"Oh," she said, "'Tis the finest I ever saw;
As long as I live I'll not scold again
But will always love my son-in-law Ben."
Oh, sons in-law, if you want peace 'tis best
To buy their ice box, it does the rest.

MANY democrats throughout Indiana have received within the last few days, from George W. Allen, of St. Louis, secretary of the "Bland executive committee," a button announcing the presidential candidacy of Bland, accompanied by a little map showing the distribution of gold and silver states in the democratic party.

[illegible] the McKinley forces, says that a pure and simple gold standard will be adopted at St. Louis. This is reassuring but the country would prefer to hear from McKinley direct.

[illegible] Fourth of July celebrations are almost a thing of the past. The people have found out that the parades and big crowds give but little recreation to those who desire a holiday. The [illegible] way now is to [illegible] the day in a [illegible] in some shady nook away from the busy hum and excitement of every day life. It is in this way that [illegible] rest is gained.

The St. Louis convention, which meets next Tuesday, will, from present indications, be one of the most protracted conventions in our national history. There are 15 contests to be decided. Tom Platt predicts that the convention will not get down to voting before Monday, the 2[illegible]. It is expected that Platt will keep the convention in session as long as he can, hoping [illegible] to put up [illegible] to defeat McKinley's nomination. This he can do by making a fight in the committee on contested seats.

SENATOR CULLOM, of Illinois, who pulled out of the presidential race concedes the nomination of McKinley and says he reckons Morton will be nominated for vice president, unless Reed shall. Should Morton be nominated, his career will be a repetition, to some extent, of that of Governor Hendricks, of Indiana. Hendricks was twice a candidate for vice president, the two candidacies being separated by an interval of eight years—first in 1876, then in 1884. Morton was a candidate in 1888, and may possibly be again in 1896.

WHEN the colored delegates of the republican party reach St. Louis, unless the prospect decidedly brightens, they will not have a place where to lay their heads. What shall, then, be done with the negro delegates? Every hotel and boarding house came out flatfooted and declared that it would entertain no negro guest or customer. Money is no object. Threats of prosecution have had no effect and from the present outlook it would seem that, unless tents are secured the black men will have to go hungry and unhoused. Quarters have been engaged at no less than three hotels for negroes, but when the delegation leaders arrived the arrangements were repudiated.

THE republican national platform relating to finance, adopted at Minneapolis in 1892, was as follows: "The American people from tradition and interest favor bimetallism and the republican party demands the use of gold and silver as standard money, with restrictions and under such provisions, to be determined by legislation, as will secure maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal. The interest of the producers of the country, its farmers and its workingmen, demand that every dollar, paper or coin, issued by the government shall be as good as any other." This was the language of Senator Henry M. Teller. He dictated the draft. He represented the republican silverites then as he does now. It was the republican bid of 1892 for the silver vote.

The Bay View Season.

People planning a vacation and others after superior educational advantages will be much interested in the Bay View assembly and summer university announcements, just out. A more delightful place than Bay View, Mich., where there are so many alluring pleasures and advantages, cannot be found in all the land. Recreations of all sorts by lake and rail are charmingly varied by almost hourly programs of the finest music, lectures and entertainments that money can buy. There will be courses of lectures by Geo. R. Wendling, Bishop Vincent, Abby Morton Diaz, Moses Coit Tyler and Chas. F. Aked, from England, courses on art, music, science, literature and history by famous lecturers. There will be daily concerts and entertainments by the Tyrolean Troubadors from Austria; the Bendix Spring quartet, Commercial Ladies' quartet, and assembly concerts with Genevra Johnstone Bishop and Harrold Jarvis, soloists. Will Carlton will be there, and Polk Miller, famous in delineations of old time down south, is to give several entertainments.

No less popular is the Summer university, which last year enrolled 800 students from all parts of the union. The university embraces seven thoroughly organized and equipped schools, with a staff of over forty instructors from leading institutions, with Dr. J. M. Coulter, from Chicago university, at the head, and who does all his summer teaching there. There is the college, offering advantages in the sciences, literature, languages and mathematics, the school of methods for teachers, Bible school, schools of music, art, oratory and physical culture, where the finest instructors are employed.

The university opens July [illegible], the [illegible] [illegible] closing August [illegible]. [illegible] special [illegible] rates. The [illegible] extremely [illegible] [illegible] ranging [illegible] those who [illegible] house.

This was Weyler's little revenge on Americans.

There will, however, be one thing left for the workmen out of employment. They can enlist in the Cuban patriot army, so all over the island help whip the Spaniards out of the island, so as to bring [illegible] [illegible] them will particularly enjoy doing this no doubt.

Electricity From Coal.

If a [illegible] for [illegible] Central power directly from coal without the intervention of [illegible] [illegible] has not been [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] York [illegible] Edison has been at work on this [illegible] these 15 years.

Finally Dr. Jacques of Boston [illegible] has found the way to [illegible] [illegible] and washing soda [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Heat [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] That produces the current by [illegible] the carbon stick and the iron pot by a wire, and the [illegible] [illegible] flows a stream of electricity ten times as powerful as that obtained from the same amount of carbon or coal by the ordinary process at least so Dr. Jacques claims. The chemistry is generated by the air and carbon. The soda merely enables them to mate.

Korea has nothing again at the United States anyhow. She has granted to an American syndicate the privilege of building a railroad within her borders. The road will extend from the capital of Korea, Seoul, to her seaport, Chemulpo. The American is everywhere. It is noticeable to find in connection with the concession that Russia, now the virtual controller of Korea, not only interposed no objection to the grant, but actually approved it, and the Russian minister at Seoul gave useful suggestions to the enterprising Yankees who planned the road. This shows a most cordial feeling on the part of Russia to the United States. Citizens of few other nations would have been allowed to construct a railroad in Korea. That is because Russia knows the United States minds its own business, wants no additional territory and is not the least bit of a jingo, the scolding charges of President Eliot of Harvard to the contrary notwithstanding.

The British house of lords will now have to go sure enough. Labouchere has proclaimed war to the knife against them. There is only one obstacle to the accomplishment of Labouchere's magnificent scheme of forming an advanced radical section in the house of commons which shall work to extend progressive ideas through the country and make parliament a thoroughly democratic body. That is that nobody except himself can be persuaded to take Labouchere seriously.

The nineteenth century is nearly 100 years of age, yet the old fellow is every bit as lively as he was at the beginning of his career. In his ninety-seventh year he gives us at one and the same time the deadly cholera in Egypt, the magnificent and joyful coronation of the czar in Russia, a war of extermination in Cuba and a bitter fight on the free silver question in the United States.

A mirror could not lie if it wanted to. The glass has nothing to gain by flattery. If the roses of health and plumpness of beauty are leaving your face, your mirror will tell you so. You can see for yourself you are in danger of losing the admiration which is every woman's due. You may not really realize it, but health is the greatest beautifier [illegible]. SHE COULD NOT LIVE.

WHILE HER LOVED HUSBAND REPOSED IN THE GRAVE.

THE BEAUTIFUL YOUNG WIDOW STETSON PINED AWAY AND DIED.

Laid to Rest Less Than a Fortnight After the Death of Her Husband—Romance of a Pretty Circus Equestrienne.

CIRCLE of loyal friends which [illegible] [illegible] America will be shocked to hear of the sudden death of Kate Stokes Stetson, the beautiful creature who married John Stetson, the Boston manager of the Globe theater. Mrs. Stetson was ardently attached to her peculiar husband, and grieved with such sincere heartache that the nervous prostration following his demise a short time ago finally resulted in death the other morning in Boston. Kate Stokes was one of the most dashing and brilliantly handsome women in America. She began her career as a bareback circus rider of the most daring accomplishments and grace. Her father used to run the Stokes amphitheater on Clinton street in Chicago, and bewitching Kate was the joy of impressionable youth and bald scorners after novel sensation. She would run into the ring like a blaze of superb loveliness, toss her hair and leap to the horse's bare back with as sure a foot as Steve Brodie's. She smiled and grew rosy in the most bewildering fashion, and was always carefully watched by her mother, who never allowed anybody else to chaperon her charming little daughter. When Kate grew into womanhood she was taken away from the sawdust ring and placed in a boarding school, where her beauty and escapades variously brought her into romantic view of an interesting coterie which had never reveled in her public exhibitions of daredevil pluck. Still her mother watched over her and her father surrounded her with such simple luxuries as his circus savings allowed. Just when the rumor that Stetson would marry Vernona Jarbeau was rife, Kate Stokes appeared in New York, chaperoned by her comely mother, and the two were frequently guests at John Stetson's Fifth Avenue theater. Without more than the usual financial warning in quiet breach-of-promise cases, Jarbeau fluttered into the field of Jake Bernstein, a wealthy Hebrew, and announcement of the probable marriage of pretty Miss Stokes to John Stetson came soon after the Jarbeau episode became known. Stetson was completely captivated by the handsome circus rider, and through his influence the fearless equestrienne secured an appearance in legitimate comedy, for which she not only had an ardent penchant but considerable talent. Instantly her beauty captured New York, she was the club toast for a season, but demurely lived in comparative seclusion with her mother, accepting the admiration and compliment of the clubs with much proper scorn. She was tall as Shakespeare's Rosalind and had astonishing muscular strength, coupled with the daintiest of curves and delicately feminine beauty of outline. Her skin was rich in color, clear as a lily petal and full of delicious little changes, from a blush to exquisite pallor. Her teeth were savage, small and kittenishly white and her mouth and nose Bouguereau and Botticelli paint—red and beautifully curved, rather thin, but soft and perfect. She married Stetson, and the manager squandered his money upon his lovely wife. There was between them that unemotional, placid sort of sulky devotion sometimes observed in comparatively mated pairs in peasantry or bourgeois couples. Stetson permitted Kate all sorts of liberties, and Kate took them neither greedily nor indifferently, but as due, with no particular return of thanks, and her affection for John was deep-rooted and big-hearted.

When John had occasion to travel Kate went with him, and when Kate had occasion to travel John thought it was all right. She left the stage immediately upon her marriage and never returned, though once in awhile she threatened it.

MRS. STETSON.

In winter she was a wonderfully active creature, always out wrapped from her lovely black head to her tiny feet in costly furs. She would walk leisurely and seemingly unconscious of the sensation her beauty created wherever she chose to wander. She had Russian vehicles, toboggan sleds, horses of her own selection, and she was the most daring and accomplished rider on the Back bay and carried terror to timid winter drivers in Central park and on the tally ho coach in New York.

In summer she [illegible] one of the trimmest steam and sail yachts among Boston craft and often went on long cruises [illegible] with her crew of a few convivial [illegible]. Her sails were [illegible] [illegible] usually [illegible] and always [illegible] and immensely fetching. Sometimes in her hunting trips and long sails about in strange waters she would arm herself with a piquant brace of pistols set in jewels and stuck in a leather belt studded with gold and [illegible] more [illegible] by a jeweled dagger showing its hilt and sheath. [illegible]

She had famously shapely feet and her footgear occupied shelves enough to fill up a small-sized shop. Her jewels were fabulous in price and were in [illegible] exception [illegible] value. She owned one or two of the world's most celebrated [illegible] and her [illegible] [illegible] and a [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] by the [illegible] of any other [illegible] private casket.

When Stetson's wealth and [illegible] of her who had grown into [illegible] [illegible] John [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and the Boston [illegible] in the heart of Back bay aristocracy. But a silent thunder cloud from the marble-heart district greeted this harmless ambition of the pretty circus rider and her husband.

Neither of them cared much, and the splendid Stetson castle, which sits obstreperously up in the pell-bed ward of commonwealth avenue, has never been consecrated by Boston swelldom, but it was a great place just the same and entertainment of solid if somewhat ostentatious hospitality brightened its years and Mr. and Mrs. Stetson grew to be most happy in their pleasant household circle of friends, who were always glad of an invitation to visit the big house.

A witty financier who had been unsuccessful in securing a loan from Stetson called at the palace on Commonwealth avenue and sent up his card. John had just been handed the translation of Dumas' "Demi-Monde" and sent back the man's card, with the information written in the corner: "Can't see you. I'm just in the middle of 'The Crust of Society.'" The financier sent up another, upon which he wrote: "So glad you have succeeded in breaking in after all the rebuffs society has given you."

REYNOLDS' BIVALVE PARASITES

The Remarkable Affliction of a Professor Who Dwells in Texas.

Prof. Reynolds, of Georgetown, Texas, has the unpleasant distinction of being afflicted with a disease the like of which is not known in medical science. Many noted physicians have examined his case, and until recently no solution of its mystery has been found. The disease is caused by countless myriads of animalcule which burrow under the skin, causing great pain. When rubbed briskly with the hand his body would give off small particles very closely resembling brown sand. The case was first brought to the attention of Dr. Fleming, of Georgetown, who made a very thorough study of it and reported it in several medical journals. Last week Prof. Reynolds went to San Antonio to have City Physician Menger make a microscopical examination. Dr. Menger conducted a series of microscopical examinations, and not only succeeded in detecting the parasite, but has made several photographs of it. He says it is the most wonderful discovery ever made on the human body as far as his knowledge of the subject goes. The particles taken from the body look like common sand, are dark brown in color, and are barely visible to the naked eye. When placed in acid the particles foam like seidlitz powders, and they can be seen under the microscope giving off carbonic gas. Acids also make the particles transparent, and they easily crumble into very fine powder. The parasite is encased in a shell, or rather two shells. The parasite itself, when placed under a powerful microscope, looks very much like a grub spider. It has eight legs, four in front and four behind. The front legs protrude and look like horns.

Betting on "L" Trains.

There's some high betting going on at the 33d street station of the 6th avenue elevated road at about 2 o'clock every morning. The trains from up and down town pass each other at this station at that time, and you will notice a group of men standing on the platforms, looking at their watches and noting the approach of the engines, whose headlights shimmer along the rails. They are betting boxes of cigars drinks and dinners upon which train will reach the station first, and they all take the interest in it which passengers on the Atlantic liners take in an ocean race. Theoretically the trains are supposed to reach the station at the same time. In practice there is a difference of ten or fifteen seconds in the favor of one or the other every morning.—New York Herald.

Eczema All Her Life.

Mr. E. D. Jenkins, of Lithonia, Ga., says that his daughter, Ida, inherited a severe case of Eczema, which the usual mercury and potash remedies failed to relieve. Year by year she was treated with various medicines, external applications and internal remedies, without result. Her sufferings were intense, and her condition grew steadily worse. All the so-called blood remedies did not seem to reach the disease at all until S. S. S. was given, when an improvement was at once noticed. The medicine was continued with favorable results, and now she is cured sound and well, her skin is perfectly clear and pure and she has been saved from what threatened to blight her life forever.

S.S.S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) cures Eczema, Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, or any other blood trouble. It is a real blood remedy and always cures even after all else fails.

Grain Crops.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Owing to copious rains early in May last the condition of the Spanish grain crops has materially improved. Still, according to United States Consul Fay, at Denia, owing to the diminished area of crops, Spain will import 660,000,000 pounds of wheat. He suggests that as no country is so favorably situated as the United States to supply this demand, this market may be secured by the establishment of direct steamship lines.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

Cured of Gallstones.

May 27th, 1896.

The Dr. J. H. McLean Medicine Co., ST. LOUIS, MO.

GENTLEMEN: For upwards of ten years I suffered from what the doctors called neuralgia of the stomach, but they could do nothing for me. At one time I was taken with a most excruciating pain and in my agony I prayed for death to relieve me. My husband sent to Lincoln for another doctor, who came, and after examination, pronounced my trouble to be gallstones. The only relief I received was when the doctors injected morphine, and that was only temporary. I was reading in your almanac where

DR. J. H. McLEAN'S LIVER and KIDNEY BALM

Cured a case of gallstones. My husband thought I had better try it, so he bought a bottle. That bottle gave me so much relief I was encouraged to keep on with it. I used seven bottles, and am now, thanks to its great healing power, cured sound and well. I am unable to express my gratitude to you for the benefit I have received from your wonderful medicine. I have recommended it to many people since my recovery, and shall always do so when I have the opportunity. You may make use of this letter in any way you desire. Yours respectfully,

MRS. LIZZIE SAXTON, Lancaster, Neb.

QUIT KICKING.

Captain Tebeau, of the Fort Wayne base ball team might just as well learn first as last that the patrons of the base ball games do not take kindly to his manner of kicking. Whenever has a rightful kick coming to him the crowds who attend the games are with him and they at all times give him their support and encouragement whenever he has reason to raise a howl. Under such circumstances they all want him to make it good and stick to it, but they are sick and tired of his little petty, peevish kicking, which commences with the game and ends with the game. Such tactics are losing friends to the game and nobody can blame the people for being disgusted. In yesterday's game Tebeau kicked and he kicked then he kicked some more, and the result was that the crowd became tired of it.

And then if Tebeau and his men cannot win games by superior playing they deserve to lose them. When Tebeau deliberately threw away a ball yesterday because he did not want it in the game he did something that was entirely out of place. Of course, there is no rule governing such a trick and it was upon this point that Tebau, after being called down, won his kick, and succeeded in having the game thrown to Fort Wayne after Youngstown had left the field. Yet, in spite of this fact, the trick was a mean one and entirely uncalled for, because the Colts could have won the game with legitimate playing. The people of Fort Wayne enjoy nice, clean base ball but they don't want a game full of kicks and baby plays and they will not put up with it.

With the exception of the above mentioned features, the game yesterday was a fine one. Swain was a puzzle to the Youngstowns until the eighth inning, when they knocked him out and Knell took his place. The Colts were also unable to hit Jordan, and at the end of the ninth inning the game stood 4 to 4. Then the squabble over Tebeau throwing the old ball away ensued and Youngstown left the field. Umpire Andrews did the only thing left for him to do, and forfeited the game to Fort Wayne by a score of 9 to 0.

The score by innings was thus

Fort Wayne	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	2	4	5	3
Youngst'n	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	3	0	4	8	5

Earned runs—Fort Wayne, 2; Youngstown, 2. Two base hits—Tebeau, King, Jordan, Brodie. Passed ball—O'Meara. Wild pitch—Jordan. Bases on balls—Off Swain, 5. Hit by pitcher—By Jordan, 1. Struck out—By Jordan, 4; by Swain, 3. Left on bases—Fort Wayne, 11; Youngstown, 5. Double plays—Jordan to Winters. Sacrifice hits—Steen, Brodie. Stolen bases—Tebeau, Griger, Lynch, Gray.

JACKSON, 5; WHEELING, 9.

JACKSON, Mich., June 11.—Garvey was somewhat wild, but effective, and this, with Jackson's poor base running and bunched errors in the second inning, gave wheeling a poorly played game. Score:

										R	H	E
Wheeling	1	5	0	0	0	0	0	3	x	9	10	4
Jackson	0	2	0	0	0	2	1	0	0	5	5	6

Batteries—Garvey and Davis, Derrick and Myers.

TOLEDO, 14; WASHINGTON, 1.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 11.—If Toledo had not been a little gay in the ninth Washington would have been shut out, and Toledo would have had an errorless game to her credit. The score:

										R	H	E
Toledo	4	0	0	0	8	2	0	0	0	14	18	5
Washington	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	7	5

Batteries—Kelb and Arthur; Riley and Mitchell.

NEW CASTLE, 12; SAGINAW, 11.

SAGINAW, Mich., June 11.—Black's Tigers lost a game to New Castle at Union park this afternoon. Daniels went to pieces in the fourth and gave the locals eight runs, but recovered and pitched a steady game to the close. The score

New Castle	0	0	0	6	1	1	2	1	1	12	13	1
Saginaw	0	0	0	8	0	2	0	1	0	11	14	2

Batteries—Allen, McGarry and Grey; Daniels and Lavalle.

NOTES OF THE GAME

Washington opens here today for three games. Knell and Griger are the battery today for the Colts

Saginaw is said to be on a better financial basis now than at any time during the season and the team is putting up better ball than ever.

JUDGE CALDWELL

Will Not Accept the Nomination for President.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Col., June 11.—Judge Henry C. Caldwell of the United States circuit court, who is stopping here was asked whether he would accept a nomination for the presidency from the populist and the silver convention at St. Louis He replied emphatically that he would not. He stated that he wanted to vote for a silver man at the coming election but he was afraid he might have to choose between two. He thought that if the friends of silver could be brought together they could win the greatest victory for the people since the days of Lincoln.

A Sure Cure.

A man in Fort Wayne had a mother-in law
Who was troubled much with a wagging jaw;
She scolded at morning and scolded at night
If things went wrong or things went right.
This man thought of everything high and low
To try and stop this ceaseless blow,
But everything failed until one day,
To Morgan & Co.'s he wended his way.
He examined their REFRIGERATOR line,
Then picked out one that was superfine.
He sent it over to his mother in-law;
"Oh," she said, "'Tis the finest I ever saw;
As long as I live I'll not scold again
But will always love my son-in-law Ben."
Oh, sons in-law, if you want peace 'tis best
To buy their ice-box, it does the rest.
